Evans Wins Ohio 'Am' Crown

Defeats Leskosky For Title

Match Ends At 32 Holes

By CHARLEY STINE
N-J Sports Writer

The new king of Ohio Amateur golfdom — and a tall and stately one — is Richard E. Evans, 18-year old Cleveland collegian.

Evans defeated Vince Leskosky, Youngstown telephone lineman, 4-3, in the final match of the 43rd annual simon-pure tournament yesterday at Westbrook Country club.

The match was scheduled to go 36 holes but ended on the 32nd when Leskosky, in the midst of a brilliant comeback, gambled and lost on sinking a chip shot. The game public links star had trailed by seven holes at the end of 23 but cut the margin to two in the next nine.

By winning, the six-foot-four Evans became the tallest man ever to hold the crowd. He also tied Dayton's Bob Servis in being the youngest ever to hold the title.

WINS ROTATING TROPHY

For his efforts, Evans took home the 30-year-old rotating Governor's Cup—the property of his Canterbury Country club for the next year—and a sterling silver cigarette humidor which he gets to keep. Ironically, the champion does not smoke.

Leskosky, whose magic putting touch suddenly went sour, was presented a sterling silver platter. He was the second public linkster in three years to be defeated in the finals. Coshocton's Max McConnell lost to Ed Preisler in 1946 at Lima.

Evans met and defeated the best in the big meet. In succession came John Busemeyer of Wyoming, Lt. Jack Mann of Toledo, defending champion Harold Paddock, Mansfield's two capable challengers, Pete Thoma and Al Hager, and Leskosky.

Evans came from behind in all except the second match and the last, and proved his ability under pressure by winning two of them in extra holes. He defeated Pete Thoma on the 20th and Harold Paddock on the 22nd.

Evans was never down to his

Nazi Aide 'Kidding'

PARIS—(AP)—Otto Abetz, Hitler's ambassador to occupied Paris, told a French military court Saturday he didn't mean what he was saying when he suggested the execution of two former French ministers.

Abetz, on trial for his life, said he was only trying to save greater numbers of Frenchmen from reprisal killings. Also, he said, he suggested that the former cabinet members be delivered to the Vichy French government for the executions and what the Vichy government did would have been no concern to the Germans.

The former ambassador's explanation was a bit confusing to the French court, especially since one of the former ministers — Georges Mandel, who had been interior minister—was killed by German troops while being transferred from a German prison to Vichy custody.

Abetz is charged with wilfull manslaughter, pillage, deportation of Jews to Geramny, sending Frenchmen to Germany for forced labor and responsibility for the assassination of Mandel.

Union OK's Terms

CANTON — (AP) — The CIO United Steelworkers local at the Timken Roller Bearing company plant here Saturday accepted a company proposal for a one-year contract, with wage adjustments for 2,867 workers in the firm's five Ohio plants.

I. W. Abel, union district director and chief bargainer, said that probably means that there will be no strike at Timken's five plants for at least 90 days.

Boy, 7, Kills Grocer

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — "I deaded him."

That was seven-year-old Teddy Moreno's baby talk way of saying he had killed a man.

Teddy, only 30 inches tall, carried a note for his mother to the corner grocery: "Please send $1 nice hamburger. Thank you."

Police Inspector Al Nelder said this is what happened:

Fred Throckmorton, 67, operator of the store, went to the meat counter to fill the order.

Teddy wandered behind the counter. He saw a gun lying there—a gun Throckmorton kept for protection. He picked it up.

"The man said 'Look out,'" Teddy told police.

'LIKE A FIRECRACKER'

"I said 'Does it go off?' and then I pulled the trigger. It worked hard. Then it went off. The pop gun made a noise like a firecracker.

"The man fell down. I deaded him."

The grocer's wife, Tomma, told police she heard the shot and "a scuffling of feet that sounded like kids." She ran into the store from their adjoining living quarters and found her husband dying on the floor. A bullet had penetrated his chest.

Some time afterward, Teddy's mother telephoned police and said her boy knew something about the shooting. Questioned, Teddy told police a strange man had shot the grocer after he protested against the man's grabbing Teddy's $1 bill. The boy even led police to a neighborhood bar and pointed out a man he said had done the shooting.

But then his four-year-old sister, who had accompanied him to the store, said:

"Teddy pulled the trigger."

The boy then readily admitted the shooting.

The boy, oldest child in a family of five, was turned over to juvenile authorities who were undecided what to do with him.

His father, John Moreno, said: "People like that grocer shouldn't leave guns like that around for kids to get hold of."

City Sees Sky Rarity, Double Halo

Mansfielders were singing a parody of "Ring - Around - the-Rosie" today after viewing one of nature's oddities, a complete ring around the sun.

The most popular belief was that it was caused by a haze in the atmosphere which diffused the sun's rays, forming the ring in the same manner as a rainbow is formed after a rain.

The ring remained in plain sight for more than an hour. It was light in color but not multihued as rainbows are.

According to meteorologists at Columbus, the ring was unusual in that it was a double halo rather than single. These occur when there are cirrus-stratus clouds and are caused by refraction of light through ice crystals when the sun is high in the sky.

For the scientific-minded, the double halo is known as a circumzenithol halo.

Clear Boy In Girl's Death

PRESTONSBURG, Ky. —(AP)— Donald Horn was cleared Saturday of any connection with the slaying of Prestonsburg high school cheerleader Muriel Baldridge, and was released.

Deputy Sheriff Harold Conn announced it was definitely established that the 20-year-old Horn had left the city for Texas several hours before Muriel was last seen alive.

Horn, the son of a Prestonsburg truck miner, was returned here by plane from El Paso night before last after surrendering to police in the Texas city.

SCHEDULE HEARINGS

BANGOR, Me. — (AP) — Labor disputes at two atomic laboratories will be the subjects of hearings here July 21 and 28.

TO THE VICTOR—There was a triple reward for 18-year Dick Evans after he won the Ohio Amateur golf tournament at Westbrook Country club yesterday. Evans got a sterling silver cigarette humidor, one-year's possession of the rotating Governor's Cup and last but not least, a big kiss from his mother.

Thinks Club Had 'Tip'

Doorman Asks To See Warrant

COLUMBUS —(AP)— The state's liquor enforcement chief is convinced the Mounds club, a plush spot in Lake county, had advance information on Friday night's star-studded raid.

Anthony A. Rutkowski, three high-ranking state officials and liquor inspectors descended on the club —and found no liquor and no gambling.

But State Fire Marshal Harry J. Callan closed the place anyhow. He said the club was in violation of the state building and fire codes.

Rutkowski, however, was irked by the greeting given him, Callan. Commerce Director Robert L. Moulton and Industrial Relations Director Albert Woldman upon their arrival, presumably in strictest secrecy.

He said the club was open and that the guard's first words were:

"Walk in, gentlemen! How many of you are there? Do you have a search warrant?"

Rutkowski said this sounded like he and his raiding party were expected.

One possible explanation of a "tip-off" came in a report from Akron, where the raid was "hatched." The hotel in which Rutkowski was staying posted the name "A. Rutkouski" and Rutkowski's suite number on the bulletin board.

60 Families Flee Flames

CAVE JUNCTION, Ore —(AP)— Sixty families were forced from their homes by a forest fire Saturday.

The fire jumped a 100-foot wide river and swept along a four-mile long strip of farm and timberland, burning several houses and sending the 60 farm families fleeting before it.

Evacuees bedded down in a church, hotel, and private homes of this small community. The American Legion hall was thrown open to store household goods the farmers brought here for safekeeping.

Will Enter Clinic

LONDON —(AP)— Sir Stafford Cripps, Britain's recovery boss, will enter a clinic in Switzerland soon for treatment of a chronic digestive ailment.

TOWN FLOODED

ROCKPORT, Texas — (AP) — A cloudburst dumped 7.6 inches of rain on this Texas Gulf coast town Saturday.

Denies Allegations

Charge Congressman Used Union's Funds

KANSAS CITY — (AP) — Charges that Rep. Leonard Irving, Missouri Democrat, and two other men had diverted labor union funds to their own use were contained Saturday in a petition for an accounting.

Irving, elected last November in President Truman's home district, is president and business agent of the Hod Carriers, Building, and Common Laborers' union of America AFL, Local No. 264.

Named with him in the petition filed by 85 members of the union, were Roy E. Livingston, treasurer and financial secretary, and Alvin Butcher, corresponding and recording secretary.

The 14-page petition, filed in circuit court here, alleged that the defendants and other members of the executive board conspired "to divert funds of the local union to their own use and the use of the defendants severally, and to various purposes not authorized by the local union or its members."

In Washington the congressman issued a general denial of the allegations. Shown a copy of a wire story about the suit, he told the Kansas City Star:

"All of these things I have read about are untrue. There has been a small clique working against me as long back as 1940."

Livingston, the 32-year-old full time treasurer, was the first of the three reached for comment.

"We don't have anything to worry about," he said. "Our books are in good shape."

CAN'T SIGN CHECKS

A temporary order restraining Irving and Livingston from signing checks except for the purposes specifically authorized by the union, was signed by Circuit Judge Thomas R. Hunt. He signed another order to show cause why the temporary restraining order should not be made permanent. It was made returnable next Thursday morning.

The 51-year-old Irving won the Democratic nomination in a field of five last August after a Hollywood flavored campaign.

In their suit, the plaintiffs asked an accounting from the defendants of funds received and disbursed since June, 1946. They stated they did not know the extent of the alleged diversions.

The defendants were alleged in the petition "to have authorized and permitted large sums of money to be paid out for political purposes."

These purposes, the plaintiffs alleged, included the registration of voters, payment of campaign expenses for persons seeking nomination as candidates and the promotion of campaigns for people seeking public office.

Take Your Pick of Concerts

Two Bands Offer Open-Air Programs

Mansfielders will have their choice of two open air musical programes this evening when band concerts are offered at both North Lake park and stadium field. Both concerts will begin at 8 p. m.

Eugene Smart studio's accordion band and orchestra will present their second concert of the season at the bandstand by the edge of the lake in North Lake park.

Forty musicians under the direction of Dr Louis Pete, of Ashland, will give the second of four summer concerts at Stadium field.

Those who attend the concert at Stadium field are promised an hour and a half of classical selections, marches, and folk music.

The program will include "Amparito Roca," a Spanish march by Texidor; Overture to "Rienzi" by Wagner; "Short-'nin' Bread," by Wolfe; "Yankee Rhythm," arranged by Lake; waltzes from "Der Rosenkavalier," by Strauss; and "Dancing Tambourine," by Polla.

Other selections by the band will be "Chicago Tribune March," by Chambers; Poet and Peasant Overture," by Von Suppe; "Aloutetta," by Fred; "Three Bears," by Long; march from "Tannhauser," by Wagner; "The Snow Carnival," by Obergard; and "King Cotton March," by Sousa.

Nelson Bolen and Roger Thaler will be the featured accordion soloists at the North Lake park concert. Jane Maurer will sing several selections including "If I Loved You," from "Carousel."

Highlight of the park program will be community singing led by Smart and Major William Jones, of the Salvation Army. There also will be a number of selections by the band.

Last week 1,500 attended the opening concert at Stadium field, and several hundred others heard the first concert at North Lake park.

The concerts at Stadium field are jointly sponsored by the City Recreation department and Local 159 American Federation of Musicians. The North Lake Park association sponsors the concerts at the park which are being held for the 17th season this summer.

Both concerts are open to the public without charge.

Resigns After Hot Row

Woods Blasts Fair Board

John G. Woods, chairman of the Richland county Fair Board improvement committee, resigned his position with a blast at the way the board has been operating its improvement program.

Woods' letter of resignation, released yesterday, said board members were more interested in making the "temporary repairs than safe repairs" of the fairground buildings.

Yesterday plans to repair the buildings, which were condemned by the state fire marshal last week, were discussed behind closed doors by the County Commission Chairman Guy F. Stewart, commissioner Cyrus L. Shoup and the fair board executive committee.

REPORTER BARRED

A News-Journal reporter was told he couldn't attend the meeting, but after it was over he was informed of some of the proceedings which took place in Stewart's office.

The meeting was held primarily to decide a problem that affects the safety of youngsters who will participate in the Richland county Junior Fair Aug. 18, 19, 20.

Buildings in which youngsters sleep were condemned by the state fire marshal. All of the fairground buildings but one, the school building, were condemned.

The fire marshal's inspection was made at the request of Woods who said he was dissatisfied with the board's attitude toward repairing the buildings. In his letter to the fire marshal, Woods said he was "alarmed about the bad wiring conditions existing in some of the barns where a great many of the boys and girls sleep overnight with or near livestock they exhibit. Some electricians have told me the wiring is dangerous and should be entirely replaced."

Conference Blasts FBI

NEW YORK — (AP) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation was denounced Saturday at a "bill of rights" conference whose sponsors have been a target of President Truman.

One of the speakers was City Councilman Benjamin J. Davis jr., a defendant in the trial of 11 communist party leaders. He was heavily applauded.

Conference sponsors include Henry A. Wallace, Progressive party presidential nominee last year, and Paul Robeson, the singer. Mr. Truman, at his news conference Thursday, referred to the group as "that gang."

O. John Rogge, former assistant attorney general, declared the FBI is invading the rights of citizens although he praised it as the "best investigative organization in the world."

"But the FBI should not be permitted in a field where it has no business, in the thinking and associations of Americans," Rogge said.

If a person has an enemy in government service, Rogge said, he can write an anonymous card to the FBI accusing the federal worker of reading a book by Theodore Dreiser, or attending a theater which shows Russian films, or welcoming a Negro to his home by the front door.

Mississippi Gets Load Of Firearms

MEMPHIS, TENN. — (AP) — It's a good thing fish don't go in for crime.

The district attorney-general's office had a housecleaning Saturday and dumped these confiscated weapons into the Mississippi river:

500 pistols.
75 shotguns and rifles.
A couple of machine guns.
And hundreds of razors and ice-picks.

Name Spray Dates for Danger Area

Health Officials Launch 'Cleanup'

DDT spraying at Country Club Allotment No. 3, scene of an outbreak of diarrheal disease this week, will start at 9 a. m. Monday, health department officials said today.

The homes, and surrounding area will be dusted over a period of about three days, Douglas P. Griffin, health department sanitary engineer, said.

DDT will be sprayed from a tank equipped with a 300 foot flexible hose, Griffin added.

Although the spraying will be concentrated on the worst spots, the entire area will be covered, he said.

In addition to the DDT spraying, an intensive clean-up campaign is being launched in the area by the health department.

Wells have been tested and those which were found unsafe are posted, Griffin said.

Madison township trustees have arranged for a township truck to haul trash from the area this week.

The residents of the area are doing the work and will load the rubbish into the truck. The township is furnishing only a truck driver.

Bird Moves Around But Gets Nowhere

MOBILE, Ala.—(AP)—Molly the mockingbird knows how to raise a family and go places at the same time. She built her nest on a ferris wheel.

Molly and her two little ones are a prize attraction at the children's playground where she set up housekeeping.

Each ferris wheel seat is guarded by a wire screen to keep the kiddies from falling out.

Molly built a stout nest between a seat and its screen. In it she hatched two eggs.

As the wheel goes round and round, Molly's little home always stays right side up. She and her babies have had hundreds of rides.

Dad Halts Crazed Boy

COLUMBUS — (AP) — A 15-year-old boy, firing a rifle with telescopic sight, held 12 policemen at bay for half an hour Saturday before he was subdued by his father.

Clyde Houston, who went berserk after a qaurrel with his mother, was subdued by his father, Clyde sr., a mail carrier.

The elder Houston, as police held their fire, walked into his home where the youngster had defied police to enter. The boy fled into an alley, then surrendered the gun to his father.

The police earlier shielded themselves behind automobiles while the boy sprayed the street with a dozen .22 caliber bullets.

The elder Houston, called from his work, shouted as he approached the house:

"Clyde, I'm coming in to get you. You'll have to shoot me to stop me."

The boy yelled back: "I'll shoot you, I'll shoot you."

As the father opened the front door screen, the youth fired five shots. One chipped off a wood splinter which pierced the father's arm.

Houston, as he grabbed the boy, threw him to the ground, apparently fearful that a fresh outburst might provoke the police, standing with drawn pistols.

The boy lapsed into unconsciousness on the ground.

PLANE CRASH KILLS 9

CAIRO —(AP)— A French military plane caught fire and crashed near Marsa Matruh Saturday, killing nine crewmen.

Feldman, Waitt Relieved

Involved In '5%' Dealings

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The army suspended its quartermaster general and the chief of the chemical corps yesterday because of evidence turned up by a Senate committee investigating alleged influence in army contract awards.

Those relieved of duty were:

Maj. Gen. Herman Feldman, 57, who enlisted as a private 42 years ago and rose through the ranks to head the army's quartermaster section.

Maj. Gen. Alden Harry Waitt, 56, who has served most of his 26 years in the army as a chemical warfare specialist.

Secretary of the Army Gordon Gray, who announced the suspensions, said in a statement that a Senate investigating committee "has evidence which indicates that General Waitt improperly furnished personnel data to an individual not in the military service and who was not entitled to receive such data; and that General Feldman furnished to a contractor's representative procurement information under circumstances which appear irregular."

He acted, he said, "because evidence secured to date indicates that each officer had exhibited a lack of that judgment and sense of propriety which must be expected of persons in their position."

The secretary added that "each officer would be given ample opportunity for a full hearing."

REFUSE TO COMMENT

Shortly after Gray's announcement, Waitt left the Pentagon saying he had no comment at that time. Feldman, reached by telephone later, also said he had no statement.

The suspension order first was disclosed by Chairman Hoey (D.-N. C.) of the Senate expenditures subcommittee which has set out to find out about persons "who hold themselves out as peddlers of influence" in obtaining government contracts, with particular attention to large commission fees.

The Senate probe was touched off by a story last month in the New York Herald Tribune about a contract that James V. Hunt, a former officer in the quartermaster corps, had with Paul Grindle, a Framingham, Mass., furniture manufacturer.

Grindle was quoted as saying he gave Hunt a $1,000 fee, to be followed by $500 monthly payments for a year, plus 5 per cent of the gross on any government contract he received. Grindle said Hunt had mentioned several government officials, implying he had considerable influencee.

Hunt denied ever trying to sell "influence." He said his services were an aid to small businessmen.

Both Feldman and Waitt were listed by Grindle as among those Hunt had mentioned as contacts in the army. Both officers denied "influence" figured in the award of contracts.

Both the Senate committee and the national military establishment have been pressing investigations into so-called "five per center" deals, a fee often charged by Washington contact men.

Says Farm Plan Dead

WASHINGTON — (AP) Senator Aiken of Vermont, a ranking farm Republican, said Saturday that the new farm program of Secretary of Agriculture Brannan is dead for this session.

"I believe there is no chance for congressional approval of the whole or even a trial run of the Brannan plan," Aiken told a reporter.

Key Democrats in both the Senate and House said privately that Aiken is right, although some of them still are pressing for an experimental test on a few foods.

Brannan startled congressional experts on farm legislation with his proposal. He wants to let consumer prices of meats, eggs, milk and other major foods and farm products decline when supplies are large.

Farmers would get "production payments" or treasury subsidies if the lower prices failed to provide them a "fair income."

Within the past two weeks, there had been talk of an Aiken-Brannan compromise which would give the agriculture secretary a "trial run" of his plan on one or more crops.

Open Church Observed For Nuptial Rite

The custom of open church was observed for the wedding of Miss Norma Jean Hildebrand, daughter of Mrs. Ethel M. Hildebrand, 398 South Diamond street, and Herschel J. Miller, 120 Dawson avenue, son of Herschel E. Miller, Constintene, Mich., on Saturday at 1:30 p. m. at the First Lutheran church.

Rev. Olan W. Aughbaugh officiated for the double ring ceremony performed before a background of palms, two beuaty baskets of assorted flowers and two lighted candelabra.

Mrs. Clayson Bell played the recital of nuptial music and Miss Betty Pagnard was the vocalist.

Given in marriage by her brother, Raymond L. Hildebrand, the bride wore a delicate pink silk crepe frock with tight low scalloped neckline, with lace insertion. Her hat was bonnet style with tan crown and dark brown brim. Pale pink rosebuds trimmed the front. She carried a bouquet of pale pink rosebuds surrounded by baby's breath, with going - away corsage in the center.

Miss Barbara Ellen Hildebrand, sister of the bride, served as her attendant. She was attired in a pale blue silk crepe dress, made with low neckline and an apron effect with white accessories. Her bouquet was of yellow roses surrounded by baby breath.

Mrs. Hildebrand chose for her daughter's wedding a powder blue print dress with black accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

Donald Miller, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Escorting the guests to their pews were Lester Stout of R. D. 2, Lexington, brother - in - law, and Jack L. Long, a friend of the couple.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception for 50 guests was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Stout. The long serving table was placed on the lawn and centered with a tiered wedding cake and decorated with bouquets of assorted flowers.

The couple will reside in Lucas. The bride was graduated from Mansfield Senior high school and has been employed as a typist at the Westinghouse Electric Corporation. Mr. Miller was also graduated from Mansfield Senior high school and is a salesman for the Num-Num Potato Chip company.

Hitler Plot Still Issue In Germany

Nazi Dictator Escaped Blast

FRANKFURT, Germany — (AP) — Five years ago next Wednesday German underground plotters exploded a bomb beside Adolf Hitler.

The July 20 bomb blast failed to kill the nazi dictator, but its reverberations still are being felt in postwar Germany.

The plot generally was regarded at the time as simply an attempt by German generals to rid themselves of their fanatical leader and end a war already lost.

Postwar probing indicates the plot had much deeper roots. It originated as far back as 1938, before the war started. Its founders claimed their goal to be nothing less than the overthrow of totalitarianism and the "rebirth" of Germany.

They are dead now — executed by the Nazis — but the fight touched off by the bomb still is being carried on by democratic elements in Germany.

Army officers formed only one wing of the anti-Hitler conspiracy. Its generally acknowledged originator was former Mayor Carl Fredrich Goerdeler of Leipzig. It included political leaders from both the right and left of center, intellectuals and trade union leaders.

It had at least moral support from many churchmen.

In its final days, it undoubtedly had its share of "Johnny-Come-Lately" opportunists who saw that the war was lost and wanted to be able to say afterward that they were "anti-Hitler."

It also had Frau Elizabeth Struenk. Her husband, a courier in the plot, was executed.

"We knew almost certainly the plot would fail," she said here in an interview.

"But despite this we went through with it to give the outside world and the German people a shining example that not all Germans wanted to follow the murderous ways of nazism."

The plot culminated when Colonel Count Claus Schenk Von Stauffenberg placed the bomb under a table of Hitler's war conference room on July 20, 1944, at Rastenburg, East Prussia, an area since ceded to Poland.

But Hitler's "destiny" still was functioning. He escaped with minor injuries.

Mobile Sawmill Saws Up Trees Where It Finds 'Em

MORGANTOWN, W. Va.—(AP)—Fabulous Paul Bunyan would be wide-eyed if he traveled through West Virginia forest lands this year.

For operating in the Mountain State's wooded areas is a man-made machine that would put Bunyan's feats to shame.

It's a mobile circular sawmill that will produce 3,000 to 5,000 feet of well-sawed lumber per day, including edging on the headsaw. It can handle logs up to 18 feet long with the diameter limited only by the size that the 56-inch headsaw can break down.

It was designed by State Foresters J. B. Byers and R. S. Lockwood as an answer to the problem of handling the trees on relatively small woodyards that would not justify erection of a permanent mill.

The mill is a fast-cutting unit that can move from woodlot to woodlot, and can pay its own way when 10,000 board feet, or sometimes less, are handled.

A truck-trailer unit, it can be set up for work in three hours. In two hours it can be torn down and ready for travel.

Amvets Plan Auction of Home Furnishings, Toys As Benefit

Amvet Post No. 26 will hold an auction on Saturday August 13, with benefits to be used in making payments on the Amvet home. The auction will be held at the Amvet club on West Fourth avenue, just west of the stadium.

Members have contributed household furnishings, lawn furniture clothing, toys, machinery, and other miscellaneous articles.

Persons wishing to donate anything for the auction should call the club between noon and 5 p. m. or 7 and 10 p. m. The donated articles will be picked up the week of the sale.

Neil Robinson will be the auctioneer.

General Chairman for the auction is D. R. Becker. Members of the committee are Joseph Rizzo, Greer Portz, Martie Pahls, Mrs. John Catlett, Mrs. Robert Miller, and Mrs. Ernest Yoakam.

Refreshments will be available at the sale.

Eggs of almost all birds and of some reptiles and fish are or have been eaten by men in some part of the world.

Fans Combat House Heat

The way in which electric fans, both ventilating and air - circulating type, are used spells the difference between a hot, uncomfortable home this summer, or a cool, pleasant one.

The attic and kitchen should each be equipped with a ventilating fan. Designed to move hot air outside, this type of fan circulates air through the entire house.

Turning these on after doors and windows are opened in the evening will quickly draw cool night air into the house. Reversible ventilating fans can be used to move hot air outside as well.

Lacking a ventilating fan, an ordinary air-circulating type will expel hot air if so placed in an open window that it blows outward; turning it toward the interior brings in cool air.

The ordinary electric fan is most effective during the day when placed on the floor, pointed ceilingward. Floor area being the coolest part of a house, the fan exchanges the cool floor air with hot ceiling air.

Large Closets Need Lights

All closets with more than 9 square feet of floor space, or deeper than 24 inches, should be equipped with electric lights.

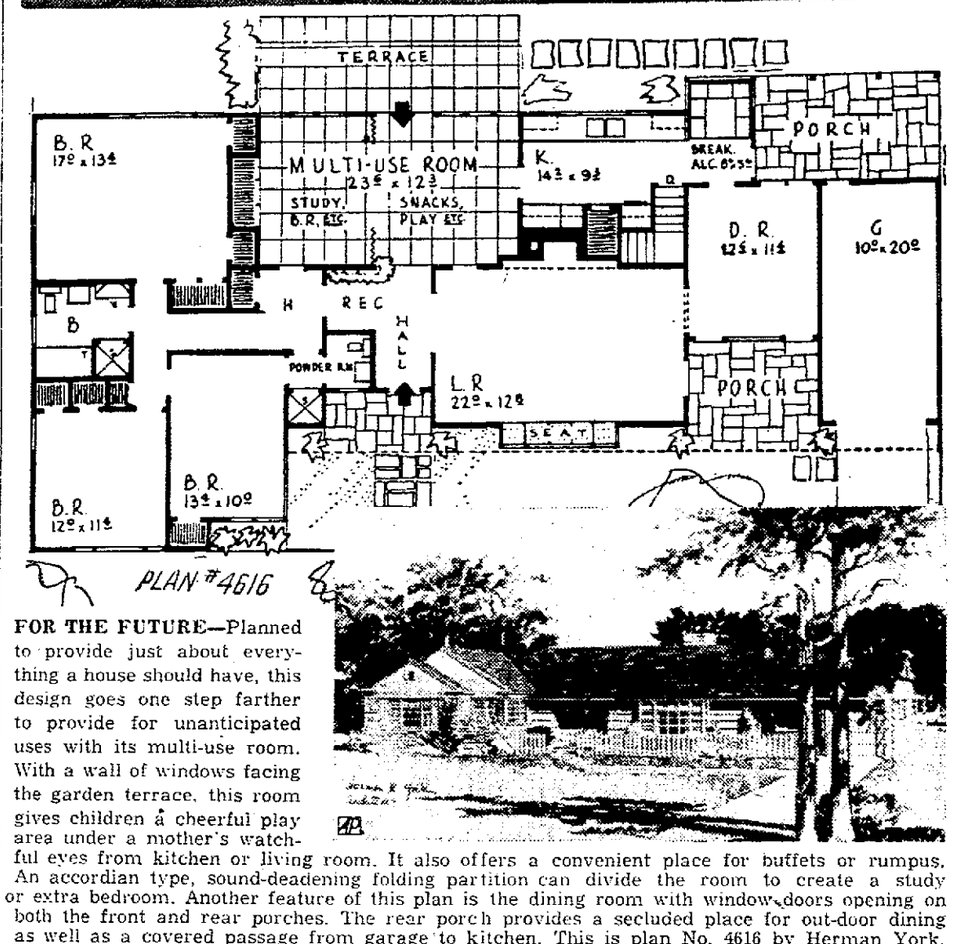
A switch in the door jamb, similar to that on a refrigerator, will turn on the light automatically when the door is opened.

A 25-watt bulb is sufficient and it should be placed close to the ceiling, away from the contents of the closet, to avoid fire danger.

ELECTRICAL SAFETY

Safety being of primary importance in electrical installations, a reputable electrical contractor should be employed who will use top-quality materials and will follow local and National Electrical Code regulations.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS



FOR THE FUTURE—Planned to provide just about everything a house should have, this design goes one step farther to provide for unanticipated uses with its multi-use room. With a wall of windows facing the garden terrace, this room gives children a cheerful play area under a mother's watchful eyes from kitchen or living room. It also offers a convenient place for buffets or rumpus. An accordian type, sound-deadening folding partition can divide the room to create a study or extra bedroom. Another feature of this plan is the dining room with window-doors opening on both the front and rear porches. The rear porch provides a secluded place for out-door dining as well as a covered passage from garage to kitchen. This is plan No. 4616 by Herman York, architect, 199-33 Keno Avenue, Hollis 7, N. Y. It covers 1,954 square feet, exclusive of garage and porches—a figure that can be used for local estimates.

The potato has spread across the world from the Andean highlands of South America.

Wall Finish Resurfaces

The makers of Bondex have introduced a new interior wall finish that colors and resurfaces in one coat. The new product, called Dramex, refinishes cracked plaster walls without replastering and makes wallboard walls look like plaster.

Dramex is easy to use. It is mixed with water, and applied with a paint brush. Dramex dries in four hours and has no painty odor. Dramex is said to be so uniform you can stop applying and start again hours later without change in color. Many decorative surface finishes are possible with this new product.

Dramex is available in eight colors and white. It is on sale at most paint stores.

LATHE WORK—Denny Litman turns out a spindle on the wood lathe as Jim Phillips watches. Many other articles of machinery are available to the boys at Boys Village for practically any type of work.

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING — The administration building (right) at Boys Village, Smithville, is the place where Rev. Clarence E. Kerr and his staff complete arrangements for admitting new boys, and conduct other business. Boys from 12 to 18 in normal mental and physical condition are eligible. Although most of them are recommended by juvenile authorities, homeless boys can make application for admittance themselves. At present the capacity of the Village is only 15, but more cottages are nearing completion. The farm house (left) is used to house some of the boys. Other photographs on this page show some of the activities in which the boys participate.

RELAXATION — Ronnie DeRydt of Mansfield, left, listens to the radio as Bob Cardinal scans a book. The boys reside in homes for 12 with a house mother, or house parents.

NEW LIVING QUARTERS — The three new cottages which are now under construction for Boys Village, Smithville, are shown above. The cottages were donated by Charles Knapp of Wadsworth, the Akron Beacon Journal Welfare fund, and the Stark County Federation of Men's Bible classes. The cottages along with the future buildings were all designed by William Boyd Huff, an Akron architect.

Boys Village Provides a Friendly Haven

Neglected Youngsters Given Home, Chance to Make Good

Homeless and neglected boys who are now residents of Boys Village, Smithville, are no longer unwanted and neglected. Instead, they are provided a home, love, guidance, and an opportunity to develop into balanced, useful citizens.

"These boys," says Rev. Clarence E. Kerr, founder and director, "good at heart, might have been your son or brother, had circumstances so dictated. I believe that every boy deserves a chance to make good. With God's help and yours, our homeless, bewildered boys can be saved a chance in life."

Rev. Kerr has devoted his life to his work, and others have helped with financial contributions. All the improvements, the clothing, and the feeding of the boys come only from the money received as donations.

Boys Village, founded three years ago, is now going full swing into expansion, with construction of three new cottages under way. Future plans are for the building of seven more cottages, a non-sectarian chapel, school, recreation building and heating plant, administration building, athletic field, and swimming pool. The completion of these projects and the expansion of the capacity from 15 to 200 is expected to be finished by 1952.

The present Village consists of individual cottage homes, farm buildings, and an administration building. Each cottage is a modern family unit with radiant heat, housing 12 boys and a house mother, or house parents. The Village is located on a 127-acre farm on State Route 5 between Wooster and Smithville, Ohio.

Boys between the ages of 12 and 18, who are normal mentally and physically, are received at Boys Village from juvenile courts and child welfare agencies, regardless of race or creed. Boys themselves may apply or may be recommended for admission by recognized organizations and private citizens.

The program for the boys includes sports, vocational education, religious training, hobbies, recreational games, household and farm duties, and plenty of wholesome food and rest.

Conditions are made as homelike as possible for a boy from the time he enters until he leaves. He is not required to leave the Village at a certain age. When a boy is ready to leave, he is guided and assisted in finding employment.

The Village's capacity of 15 is far too small for the demand. Many are on the waiting list.

Commenting on the activity, Mansfield's Judge Stewart Cramer said: "I know Rev. Kerr personally, and I hope he is able to increase the capacity so that we may be able to place some boys there from time to time."

Boys Village is not a place of all work and no play, nor is it all play and no work. Boys Village has a little of each, with the result that the boys grow up as any average American boy does.

Several of the boys have already left Boys Village since it has started, and are successfully making their way in life.

Boys Village is winning the praise of people who believe that every boys deserves a chance to make good.

The cost to maintain a boy at Boys Village is little in comparison to his latent value as a useful citizen, says Rev. Kerr. Approximately one dollar a day will provide food and clothing for one boy.

SECOND CROP—Don Hostettler, farm manager, hands a hammer to Denny Litman as the boys prepare the hay loader for the years second crop. Working on the ground is Bob McMasters and Jim Phillips is on top.

NICE FINISH—Fred Seckel, top, and Frank Carney put a paint job on the original farm house. All the boys are paid for their work, payment ranging from 10 to 25 cents.

GET A HIT—Tom Neeley tried for a hit but the umpire fouled him up—with a strike. The others are Don Witmer, catching, Gene McDonald, umpiring, and Bob Bauer in the background.

Tax Figures Behind, But Improving

Sales of prepaid tax stamps in Richland County were rising at the end of June but were still more than 12 per cent behind last years figure's, according to Don H. Ebright, state treasurer.

During the first six months of the year, $705,837.64 was collected from sales tax stamp sales in Richland County. In the same period in 1948, $802,758.50 was collected.

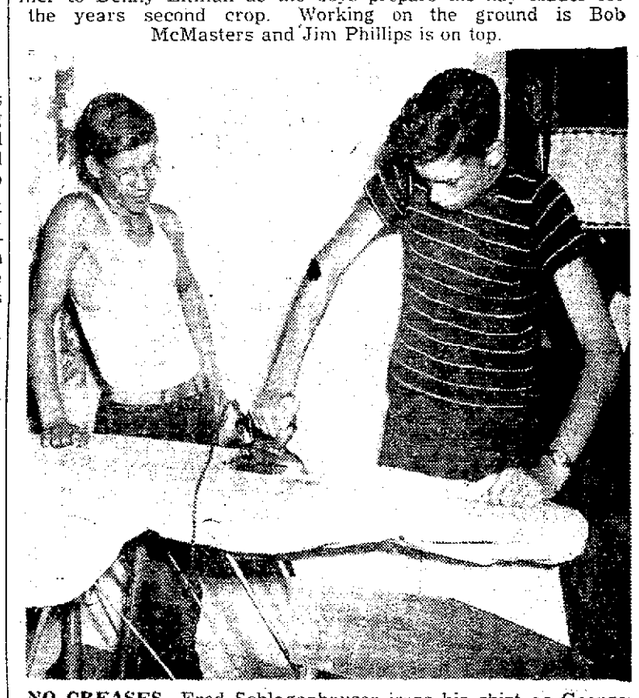
The amount collected in Richland County for the week ending June 30, is more than $6,000 over the average established for the first 25 weeks of the year, but is $6,300 less than was collected during the same week in 1948. Collection from sales tax stamps sales in Richland County for the week of June 30, amounted to $33,288.30.

Figures for the entire state are running only seven per cent below last year.

Car-Truck Accident Kills Four Persons

BEDFORD, Pa. — (AP) — A tractor - trailer truck smashed into an automobile on the Pennsylvania turnpike Friday night, killing a young marine corporal and three girl companions.

The accident occurred a mile west of Everett. State police identified the dead as Corp. Robert J. Doll, USMC., Henderson Hall, Arlington, Va.; Mary E. Smetana, 19, Bradenville, Pa.; J. Sarah Mirles, 19, Torrance, Pa., and Stella Riggs, 20, Mayville, N. C.



NO CREASES—Fred Schlagenhauser irons his shirt as George Devin of Mansfield supervises. The boys are becoming adept at doing the types of which which fits their needs.

Bank Debits Dip In June

Withdrawals from savings accounts and checks drawn on Mansfield banks during June totalled $38,664. This was 11.1 per cent lower than for June last year, it was shown in a report of the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland.

The shrinkage of debits in the 21 smaller cities of the Federal Reserve Fourth District continued for the third successive month. Bank debits in Mansfield for the three month period ending in June were $118,498 or 7.4 per cent lower than for the similar period a year ago.

Debits in the 31 cities in the district rose more than seasonally during June to nearly $7,211,000,000. This was nominally below the year - ago level for the first time in the postwar shrinkage in debits at the 21 smaller centers.

The year - to - year decline in debit volume was apparent at all the smaller centers except Wheeling and Springfield. Portsmouth and Steubenville showed the most outstanding declines from the all - time highs registered by them a year.

Warns Against Rubbish Burning

Numerous complaints have been received at the city building about offensive odors given off by burning rubbish, Service-Safety Director Earl T. Garrison said yesterday.

Burning rubbish of this type within the city limits is prohibited by city ordinance, Garrison said. A violator could be arrested and fined in municipal court if someone filed charges against him, he added.

The Ohio General code states: "No person shall burn any refuse of any kind, garbage or paper, which shall in burning give off offensive odors."

At Lions' Convention

James Miller, secretary of the Mansfield Lions club and Alvin Fankhauser, treasurer of the group, arrived in New York yesterday as the official delegates from Mansfield to the thirty-second international Lions club convention

They were among the vanguard of 35,000 delegates who poured into New York in every conceivable vehicle.

One group, the Cortland, O., delegation, pulled up before its hotel in a little house on wheels.

Among the Lions arriving by more conventional means were delegates that flew in from Lima, Peru, and a group from La Junta, Col., that arrived by bus.

The Lima club representatives brought Peruvian beauty Liliana Rumiano with them, and boasted she was a sure thing to win the prize in the beauty contest that is one of the convention features.

The various delegations registered at Madison Square Garden, the headquarters for the convention. During the rest of the week, the Garden will house business meetings, the beauty contest, and the big "International Night Revue."

The convention will open officially on Monday night with a gala parade down Fifth avenue.

Hikes Are Featured on 'Y' Schedule

Educational Tour Planned

The YMCA's special events for this week were announced yesterday by Maurice Taylor, general secretary of the YMCA.

Monday morning, Taylor will lead a group of "Y" boys on an all day hike to Averill's Woods. At 7 p. m. Monday the Iroquois and Wyandot Indian Guides will meet. The Indian Guides are composed of boys too young to participate in the regular "Y" activities. These boys and their fathers belong to various Indian Guide groups affiliated with the YMCA.

The Century Cycle Club will take a bike hike Tuesday morning, with Taylor leading the way on a picycle he purchased in England. In order to wear a Century Cycle Club emblem, boys must have ridden 100 miles on their bikes.

There will be a Hyfun Cabinet meeting Tuesday at 5 p. m. All high school students are invited to attend the Hyfun dance at the YMCA at 8:30 p. m.

A group of boys will make a trip through the Mansfield Tire plant Wednesday morning on an educational trip. These trips are held weekly and are titled "Rubberneck Tours."

At 1:30 p. m. Wednesday some of the older members will take an overnite hike to Mohican State park. Thunderbird tribe of the Indian Guides will meet at the "Y" at 7 p. m. Wednesday and the Fox and Chippewa tribes will meet at 7 p. m. Thursday.

Another bike hike is on tap Friday morning, with boys making the trip, meeting at the "Y" at 9 a. m. The Ojibway Indian Guides will meet at 7 p. m. Friday.

There will be a morning hike to John Todd park on Saturday morning. A group of 25 boys will leave for Camp Nelson Dodd for seven days next Sunday. The camp is the YMCA area camp for Ohio and West Virginia. The group leaving Sunday will be the fourth group from the Mansfield YMCA to attend the camp. They will be there from July 24 until July 31.

Unusual Schmidt Telescope Starts Sky-Mapping Tuesday

PALOMAR OBSERVATORY, CALIF. — (AP) — A huge new telescope known as the 48 inch, Schmidt begins mapping the universe Tuesday night.

And therefrom hangs a tale—and from the tale of a moral.

The story is that of a scientist who defied convention and established authority to bring the worlds beyond human vision into closer focus. An obscure incident in the life of this scientist points the moral, which has to do with the value of an open mind.

Twenty years ago Bernard Schmidt, a German optician, invented a new kind of telescope. It had a corrective lens which would bend light rays in such a way as to yield clearer photographs of stars. European astronomers were skeptical, however, and preferred to stick to old-style telescopes despite their imperfections.

Some of Schmidt's sky photos found their way to America, where scientists immediately were enthusiastic. Their willingness to accept a new idea resulted in the building of the new 48-inch Schmidt 'scope which this week starts making astronomical history.

During the next four years the Schmidt will be busy photographing some three-fourth of the heavens, taking pictures of stars up to 300 million light years away. By studying the resulting "sky atlas," astronomers will be able to determine where they want to aim the Schmidt's "working partner," the 200-inch hale telescope which has a range of one billion light years.

This is a project that never has been undertaken before, because there never was until now a telescope capable of doing the job. The Schmidt is expected to discover new stars — perhaps even new system of stars. But whether it does or not, its monumental work in surveying the universe alone will justify the open-mindedness of American scientists who had faith in the revolutionary ideas of Bernard Schmidt.

Mrs. C. Scott Dies at Home

Mrs. Catherine C. Scott, 75, died at her home in Springfield township last night following an illness of several months.

Mrs. Scott, who was born in Mansfield on June 6, 1874, had spent her life in this vicinity. She had lived at her Springfield township home for the past 54 years.

She was a member of the Ontario Community church.

Mrs. Scott leaves her husband, Charles; a son, Walter, and a sister, Mrs. Ida Fleck, all of Springfield township.

The body is at the Wappner funeral home. Funeral services are incomplete.

Patient Ends Long Holdout

Taft, Okla. — (AP) — A mental patient surrendered to authorities after holding hospital attendants away from his ward at gun point for more than 24 hours yesterday.

Rosenfelt James, 51, surrendered to Muskogee county Attorney Ed Edmondson. He was taken to nearby Muskogee for questioning.

James had barricaded himself in the ward at the state Negro mental hospital and fired wildly at attendants and deputy sheriffs.

Even after surrendering, he refused to tell where he obtained the Luger automatic he used.

Immorality Cases Slated Tuesday

The eight persons charged with "immoral acts" following a raid on an apartment at 32½ West Fourth street two weeks ago will make their pleas in probate court Tuesday at 10 a. m.

The 13-year-old girl arrested with them is still being held in county jail as a material witness while the eight charged are free on bond.

Youth Beaten, Bicycle Stolen

A Mansfield boy was beaten and his bicycle stolen last night as he and another boy pushed the bicycle on Bartley avenue near Sloane avenue.

Dick Herrington, 830 Millsboro road, and Ned Deimer, 226 Cline avenue, told police they were pushing the bicycle when a car stopped and the occupants got out.

They struck Deimer several times and he dropped the bicycle and started running. Herrington also ran, but turned to see one of the youths ride the bicycle north on Bartley avenue. The car then went in the same direction as the bicycle.

They told police they didn't get a good look at their assailants but that one had blond hair.

Eddie to Fly Back to Philly

CHICAGO—(AP)—Eddie Waitkus, the 29-year-old bullet-punctured Philadelphia Phillies' first baseman, says today will be a red letter day.

He plans to leave Billings Memorial hospital and fly to Philadelphia. It will be the end of more than a month in hospitals. And—"boy, I'm telling you hospital life is driving me nuts," he says.

Eddie talked to newsmen yesterday and seemed glad of the opportunity. He's been kept pretty quiet most of the time since he was shot June 15 by an addled woman fan. She is Ruth Steinhagen, 19, who has been committed to a mental hospital.

Youngstown Stars Get Coaching Jobs

YOUNGSTOWN — (AP) — Two former Youngstown college athletes were named to local scholastic coaching jobs yesterday.

Jack Cramb, who resigned at Columbiana high recently, was named coach at Youngstown North. Pete Lanzi, four-year star at Youngstown college, was appointed assistant to Coach Dick Barrett at East.

Cramb graduated from Youngstown college in 1946.

Beats Buddy

GSTAAD, Switzerland — (AP) — Jaroslav Drobny, now a Czechoslovak exile, defeated Vladimir Cernick in the Swiss international tennis tournament yesterday, 6-0, 6-1, to enter the final against Earl Cochell of the United States.

Poloists Play

Harbor Hills Polo club will play in Columbus Sunday afternoon, hosting the recently-formed Springfield club from Barberton, Ohio, which has seven players who gained experience with Akron, Alliance and Cleveland teams. Game time is 3 o'clock.

3 PETITIONS FILED

Three nominating petitions were listed yesterday by Walter Underwood, deputy clerk of the Richland county board of elections. They were for Roger W. Moss, Glen P. Freeman and E. E. Long, all for the Bellville board of public affairs.

Cleveland Pays Big 'Pot' to Fund

CLEVELAND —(AP)— The Indians reported yesterday they paid $8,500 to the Community fund because the Pittsburgh Pirates failed to bring sluggers Ralph Kiner and Dino Restelli to an exhibition game this week.

"The game should have drawn 40,000," explained the Tribe's president, Bill Veeck, "so we paid the Community fund on that basis. (The attendance was 33,470).

Mansfield, Ohio

Dear Folks:

We would like to acquaint you, a property owner, with our new exclusive selling plan called PHOTO LISTING. A unique presentation that definitely increases the possibilities of a quick sale for you. A sure shot designed to stimulate today's slow market.

PHOTO LISTING enables you to get the amount of advertising equivalent to a thousand words. Not only is it before the public in newspapers but a large professional picture of your home is posted on our wall and each of our representatives carries one in his portfolio, to be shown to every prospective buyer.

Our PHOTO LISTING plan has been in effect a few weeks and already has resulted in better and quicker response from buyers and doubled our sales.

We would like to explain PHOTO LISTING to you, extensively, and would appreciate your calling or stopping in our office. Better still, we would be glad to send a representative to your home. You are under no obligation whatsoever, but we feel that once you understand our plan, how it works for others, you, too, will want the best possible service in selling your home by PHOTO LISTING.

Sincerely yours,

Harold W. Hamilton

DIAMOND HILL

Just beyond the city limits on South Diamond Road. Turn left where you see our sign on Topaz Avenue.

See how a fine neighborhood of substantial small homes is being built up by people who are using their time during seasonal lay-offs, week-ends, and evenings to build their own homes. What others are doing, YOU can do. You would be surprised how much you can do yourself—how much you can save!

$99 to $439

Every unsold lot is tagged with number and price. Select your lots and bring the tags to one of our salesmen on the grounds. Sales made only on the property.

Bare Plans For Y Kick-Off, Dinner

A. B. Grafton, YMCA president, announced Saturday that the Isaly Dairy company and Lumbermen's Mutual Insurance Agency, Inc., have united to sponsor the complimentary kick-off breakfast and victory dinner in the annual YMCA membership drive.

The kick-off breakfast on Sept. 7 will start the 10-day enrollment drive, which will end on Sept. 16 with the victory dinner. Both breakfast and the dinner will be held in the YMCA gymnasium.

Last year's enrollment drive netted 1257 memberships, of which about 500 were renewals and the balance new memberships. Current "Y" enrollment is about 1300, including 600 boys.

"Facilities at the 'Y' are inadequate for setting our goal higher than the 1257 memberships we obtained last year," Maurice W Taylor, general secretary of the "Y" said. "We expect only about 60 per cent of the members to renew, which means that we will have to sign up about 500 new members," Taylor added.

"There will be 100 boys and 200 men soliciting memberships during the drive The drive will be divided into an industrial and general division. The division chairmen will be announced later," Taylor said.

"Many civic-minded men lent financial support to the YMCA last year by purchasing memberships even though they never made use of "Y" facilities. We hope that these men will support us again."

"The Mansfield YMCA has increased its activity participation by 45 per cent over last year and boys work has tripled since last year. We now have 10 Indian Guide clubs in the grade schools, where we had only two last year. New programs developed for the boys, include a boxing program and installation of a new rifle range," Taylor pointed out.

Men's activities were expanded with the founding of two toastmaster's clubs, a casting club, now part of the city recreation department and an archery club.

In 1948 $15,000 was spent on improving the YMCA building and $3,000 was spent on purchasing new equipment The Mansfield YMCA is in its 82nd year of operation this year.

Fleury Msplet who set up Montreal's first printing plant in 1778 was sponsored by Benjamin Franklin.

Seclusion Room Undergoes Tests

CLEVELAND — (INS) — A new-type seclusion room, designed to provide maximum safety, comfort and freedom of movement for patients in mental institutions, has successfully undergone initial tests at Cleveland state hospital

Dr E H Crawfis, superintendent of the Cleveland hospital, today announced the new installation, inaugurating a positive, more humane approach to the problem of care for disturbed patients in mental hospitals.

Government to Act In Strike

HONOLULU — (AP) — Hawaii's governor turned Saturday toward government operation of docks as strike that has paralyzed ports in these islands for 77 days.

Governor Ingram M Stainback expects to call the territorial legislature Tuesday into a special session to enact a dock seizure bill It will be the main measure in a legislative program being drafted to end the tieup.

The stevedores, members of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union, struck May 1 to boost their hourly pay from $1 40 to $1 72 Employers once offered to go as high as 14 cents an hour, then withdrew their offer. Negotiations have been broken off

Evans Wins Ohio 'Am' Golf Crown

Drops Leskosky On 32nd Hole

25-year-old tee course opponent yesterday, although he was only one up at the end of 16 holes He birdied the sixth and seventh to go up two but lost the eighth to Lekosky's bird and the tenth with a three-putt bogey He got the one-hole margin on the 13th when his birdie putt dropped in

The stretch from the 17th through the 22nd kept Leskosky from annexing the title During that stretch he lost six straight holes four of them by having three putt greens The 17th and 18th were both lost that way while Evans finished the morning round with a par 72

In the afternoon Leskosky three-putted the first and third and Evans birdied the second and fourth to go seven up

Apparently thinking he was out of the running, Leskosky relaxed a bit and started banging his shots home He birdied the sixth with a 15-foot putt, won with a par on the seventh, birdied the eighth and won with another par on the ninth That put him back in the running with his card showing only three down and nine holes to play.

Both men were tired and as Leskosky said later 'golfed-out" and took bogies on the tenth. Leskosky's birdies putt hung on the lip and Evans missed from two feet to halve the eleventh They halved the 12th with pars but Leskosky continued his drive as Evans three-putted the thirteenth green for a bogey

The shot which probably decided the match was Leskosky s drive off of the fourteenth tee He hit into the rough on the right and came to rest behind a small tree In trying to slice around the tree to the green Vince toed the ball into a shelter house and had it bounce back down the fairway He had a longer iron shot to get on, then two putts cost him the hole making it three down and four to go It was the first hole Evans had won since the fourth

Evans hit the green with his second shot on 15 and Leskosky s lay about two feet off on the apron With the tremendous lead against him he gambled on sinking a chip shot and went too far over to come back in one putt Evans two-putted and won

Program Hits Delinquency In Shelby

By JOHN E. PATRICK
N-J State Correspondent

SHELBY — Shelby's summer playground is accomplishing a twofold purpose, besides being a means of education and recreation for the children during the summer vacation it definitely is helping combat juvenile delinquency.

Under the supervision of "Chuck" Williams, basketball coach at Shelby high school, the roll call has shown a daily average of 133 youngsters for the first five weeks the playground has been in session.

ATTENDANCE MOUNTS

The figure this year is slightly higher than last year, however, Williams said the attendance usually falls off during the last five weeks and that the average attendance for the entire period will probably be the same as last year.

The playground operates from 9:30 a. m. to 11:30 a. . and from 1 p. m. to 3:00 p. m. daily except Saturday and Sunday.

This year an added inducement has been offered the youngsters for perfect attendance. All youngsters who have a perfect attendance will be guests on a trip to Cleveland to see a baseball game. Approximately 20 children are eligible for the trip at the present time.

SHELBY CORRESPONDENT

The Mansfield News-Journal correspondent in Shelby is John E. Patrick, 33 Marvin avenue. His phone number there is 483L. All Shelby news releases should clear through him.

Under the supervision of Miss Virginia Rapp the smaller children play games, participate in handicraft, bird study, sewing and drawing in a school room equipped with little chairs and tables.

Glenn Lybarger, a senior at the Shelby high school, has the older groups and with Chuck Williams supervises tennis, ping pong, and softball.

WINS FIRST ROUND.

The softball league is operated in two rounds. The first round winner was the Tigers, managed by Kenny Foreman with second place taken by Dick Reeds "Indians". Third place went to Wincel Ingram's "Yankees" while the booby prize went to Jim Chew's "Red Sox."

Children from the first grade through the eighth grade are participating in the various recreational and educational prujects being offered at the playground.

Parents of the children regularly attending the playground have been amazed at the ideas in handcraft accomplished by the youngsters and the progress shown in the few short weeks the playground has been in session.

76 Bellville Children Commute to Liberty Park

P-TA Sponsors Water Safety Program

By BILL HERRING
News-Journal State Editor

BELLVILLE—The third project of the year for the Bellville Parent-Teacher association finds it meeting the problem of the "old swimming hole." For years Clear Fork creek, which passes through this village, has attracted youngsters to unsupervised bathing spots.

The P-TA, showing its interest in children in this school district even after classroom activity is suspended, is sponsoring a water safety program in Liberty park pool in Mansfield. The Bellville Chamber of Commerce and two local businessmen co-sponsor the project.

At the Mansfield pool 76 Bellville youngsters receive free Red Cross water safety instruction and the use of supervised playgrounds and their facilities.

The first P-TA project of the year resulted in the establishment of a needed first aid room at the school. The second, a community auction on June 11, raised funds to obtain a new movie projector for the school building.

* * *

Two buses transport the Bellville children to Liberty park Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday for a three-week period which ends this week. Two of the mothers ride in each bus to serve as chaperones. Fifteen other children are transported to the park pool by their parents.

The children pay $3 registration fees with the remainder of the expenses shared by the sponsors. As the project exceeded original estimates, R. H. Hursh and J. L. Myers pledged to assume costs the P-TA couldn't afford.

Original plans called for registering 40 children on May 14 but by the time registrations closed 40 children had paid fees and another 30 signified their intentions of joining. Classes started for the group in Mansfield June 31.

The children were divided into two groups-beginners and intermediates. Most of the Bellville children, ranging in age from 6 to 14 years, are beginners. They are in the pool from 10 to 11 a. m. and cavort on the playgrounds from 11 a. m. until noon while the intermediates receive instruction.

* * *

Swim days offer quite a sight here as the children meet at the park at 9 a. m. for roll call and count before boarding the buses. A few children living on the highway, are picked up en route. A boy and girl, living a mile and a half from this village, ride bicycles in to join the group.

The roll call and count procedure is followed in Mansfield and upon their return so an accurate check is kept on slow dressers and ones inclined to wander from their groups.

One mother keeps an eye on bathing suits and towels as children are wont to lay them down without ascertaining the articles are in the Bellville pile.

The P-TA began working on the water safety program during the winter. No attempt has been made to make money on the project and the fee is kept within reach of all parents. Mrs. Karleton Shaffer is chairman of the P-TA water safety committee and is assisted by Mrs. Merle Margot and Mrs. W. D. Worner.

* * *

The buses are hired at $16 a day each from the Fairlick Stages, Inc., which operates bus lines in Mansfield and Newark. A bus was secured from each city to meet the Bellville demand.

Attendance of teachers at the Bellville P-TA meetings is voluntary, as is teacher help on projects. Officers of the P-TA here are Mrs. Eldon Bowers, president; Mrs. Karleton Shafer, treasurer; Mrs. Ralph Frost, secretary, and Jay Walker as vice-president.

Appreciation to the Red Cross and the Mansfield municipal park playgrounds staffs is voiced by the local P-TA for assisting in the project. It is the only such community project undertaken this summed in the Mansfield area.

BELLVILLE SWIMMERS ANSWER ROLL CALL—One of two bus loads of Bellville school children are answering roll call and count in Mansfield's Liberty Park before returning home after enjoying a Red Cross water safety class and playground recreation. Mrs. R. H. Hursh (extreme left) is handling the roll call. The buses bring 76 Bellville pupils into the park four days a week during a three-week program sponsored by the Bellville P-TA.

Start Water Works Project This Week

LOUDONVILLE — Work will start this week on the construction of the new $130,000 water plant here. James V. Crano will be superintendent of the project for the DeLuca Construction company. Ben Lentsch will serve as civil engineer. Both men last week laid preliminary plans and built a shack for use as headquarters.

Soon as labor has been employed, materials purchased and sub contracts let the old building will be torn down. The new building will be erected upon the old site.

Galion School Opening Set

GALION — Classes will be held in the new South elementary school building this fall. Construction of the building this summer will be far enough completed to permit classes to be held when school gets under way on Sept. 6.

The school board has purchased 1,000 capacity steel portable bleachers for the Heise Park athletic field from the Hussey Manufacturing company, North Berwick, Maine. Part of the wooden bleachers will be removed to assure safety.

17 New London Scouts Make Michigan Trip

NEW LONDON—A group of 17 local Boy Scouts enjoyed a sightseeing trip to Dearborn, Mich. last week to visit the Edison Museum in Greenfield Village and other Ford plants. Transportation was furnished by Mark Chase, Vic Bradley and William Holkenburg.

Shelby Water Line Work To Start Monday

SHELBY — Construction will get under way tomorrow for water lines for the North Gamble street extension, Park avenue extension and Mansfield avenue extension to include the Waldruff addition to Mickey road.

Also included in the additional water lines for the city is a 10-inch feeder line from Whitney avenue south along the Blackfork to the corner of Mack and Tucker avenues.

L. Walker Fauber and company of Ashland are the contractors for the job. Equipment was brought in last week.

Clubbers Plan Joint Session

A joint meeting of the Jolly Homemakers and Dad's Helpers 4-H clubs will be held Monday at the home of Bonnie and Joyce Mottavau to fill our health papers. Later the girls will be hosts to the boys at a wiener roast.

The Pavonia Homemaker 4-H club met last week at the home of Miss Sara Hyatt and voted to go on a weekend camping trip when projects are finished. A team demonstration on duties of officers was given by Jo Anne Knight and Joan Kocsovsky while Shirley Snyder and Iva Markel gave a pattern demonstration. The next Pavonia club meeting will be at Iva Markel's home on July 28.

Gloria Walker gave a cake baking demonstration at last week's meeting of the Jolly Home makers. The next meeting, on Aug. 1 will be at the home of Ingrid and Waltrout Glasser. Fair exhibit demonstrations by club members will be given by Joyce Estep, Gloria Walker and Janet Walker.

2 Teachers Quit In Millersburg

MILLERSBURG — Miss Juanita Schofield and Leonard Brubaker recently resigned as teachers in the Millersburg school. Miss Schofield had taught commercial subjects here for the past two years. Brubaker had taught vocal and instrumental music. Both had been re-employed under five-year contracts.

Mrs. Ethel Kraus, Mt. Hope, recently was employed as a teacher in the intermediate grades. This is a newly created position made necessary by the increasing lower grade enrollment. Mrs. Kraus previously had taught for one year in the Millersburg School, and for six additional years in Holmes county schools. She holds a four-year provisional elementary certificate.

Four vacancies on the secondary level are yet to be filled, Supt. V. J. Briegel, states.

Classes To Begin In Willard Pool

WILLARD — Park Supervisor Carleton Riddle announces that free swimming and life-saving classes will begin at the Willard Municipal pool on Tuesday.

Mrs. Carolyn Williams Schild of Attica, formerly of Willard, will be instructor-in-charge of the classes which will be conducted every Tuesday, Thursday and Friday for three weeks.

Classes For Blind Continue In Summer

By MARY DEPLER
N - J State Correspondent

CRESTLINE — Most teachers are enjoying vacations now that schools are closed for the summer. This is not the case of Mrs. Herbert Haag, of 408 East Main street, home teacher for the blind who instructs her pupils 12 months of the year.

A two - week vacation is all Mrs. Haag enjoys as she makes her calls in all kinds of weather when travel is possible. She started teaching the blind in October, 1948 and is one of seven teachers in this work throughout Ohio.

Having lost her sight at the age of four, when a bucket of lye water was thrown on her accidentally, she attended the State School for the Blind in Columbus and graduated from Ohio State university in secondary education in 1947. She majored in history, geography and social science.

After she decided to teach the blind, she did field work at Cincinnati for four months as a preparatory course.

Her first teaching position took her to Lorain and later she was transferred to Mansfield. When she was married on April 16, 1949, she came here to make her home.

* * *

Mrs. Haag has a territory of 15 counties which she covers with the aid of a driver who transports her to the various homes she visits. Mrs. Fred Arter, of north of Crestline, is driver for Mrs. Haag and acts as her guide.

She teaches the adult blind by helping them to readjust their lives and occupy themselves. Her pupils range in age from 18 to 76 and are taught various types of handiwork. This includes general home making, Braille reading, crocheting, knitting, sewing by hand and machine, typing and also brush making for the men.

Finding out what they did before they lost their sight and building on what they already know aids in instructing the students. Mrs. Haag stated the main thing was to teach them to occupy themselves so they have little time to become morose.

Her oldest pupil is a woman of 76. She also has two young housewives, one aged 22 with two small children whom she aims to teach cooking and child care. The other is 29 years of age with an eight - year - old daughter who lost her sight a year ago and finds life depressing. This mother must be taught to see there is a place for her in the world. Mrs. Haag's pleasing manner and cheerful disposition enable her to encourage those she works with.

Her work is under the State Welfare department and the Division of Social administration and she works in conjunction with the welfare heads in her territory. Mrs. Haag divides her territory into two routes.

These take her from Mt. Vernon to Sandusky and from Orrville to Bowling Green. She averages about six calls a day so she and her driver often stay overnight at hotels. Reports for the trip and of calls made must be forwarded to the state office each week.

* * *

Besides teaching handicraft to the blind, the state now is putting out talking machines with records of talking books for the blind. Each side of the record plays for 15 minutes.

Every blind person is entitled to the machine and records which come from the Cleveland library. These records are compiled by the Division for the Blind's Library of Congress. Any book can be had in record form for the blind.

Mrs. Haag's latest effort is trying to get a social club organized for the blind in Crawford county. She is receiving the aid of the Lions club for this project.

Before her marriage Mrs. Haag was the former Miss Elizabeth Papp of Columbus. Both she and her husband, whom she met at the State School for Blind in Columbus, have been blind since childhood and both have overcome their handicap to a great extent.

Their four room apartment, one of three in a building, Haag purchased and remodeled, is immaculate. Mrs. Haag manages to do her housework after her day's teaching work has been finished.

Haag formerly operated a broom factory where he made and sold brooms. At present he is unemployed, since the Buckeye Electrical Manufacturing company moved to Mansfield. He had been operating a riveting press for the company while it was located here.

Lucas Memorial Park Dedication Set Today

By VIRGINIA LEE
N - J State Correspondent

LUCAS — The dedication this afternoon of the Lucas Memorial park a state and community project will mark the realization of a dream that long has been in the hearts of community folk and the fulfillment of a need long felt by motorists on State Route 39

Rev. M. P Paetznick, former Lucas minister who now is at Bucyrus, will give the dedicatory address. There will be prayer by Rev. Ralph Chapman, a former Lucas minister who served as park board president Chapman now is at North Ridgeville The Mt. Zion band will play and the Lucas Boy Scouts will raise the flag and lead the group in the pledge of allegiance following a colorful parade from Lucas school to the park The parade will mass at 2 p. m with the program set for 2 30 p. m.

REV. M P. PAETZNICK

There is no roadside park on State Route 39 west of Lucas and none closer east than that five miles southeast of Nashville, which is more that 20 miles away There had been no recreation area in the Lucas community.

SPURS PROJECT

Community agitation for a park was spurred by the Lucas Community Garden club Wishful talking probably influenced John Fox a Monroe township native and former vice president of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company, to start the park fund with a gift of $1,000 His gift was contingent on procurement of a suitable site and arrangement for future maintenance

Merle Warner a Lucas businessman who since has moved to Castleberry Fla met the first qualification with his offer to donate a site at the eastern limit of the village

The State Highway department, seeking a roadside park site, agreed to establish and maintain it on approximately half of the Warner ground and cooperate in the community's improvement and maintenance of the other half. A picturesque creek, soon to be spanned by a rustic bridge, marks the divisions of the two areas. The state holds a lease on the park site that will revert to Warner should the park ever be discontinued.

The Lucas community set up a park board in 1945 to work in conjunction with state officials in constructing the park The board consists of representatives of each civic organization in the community and three at - large members Rev Ralph Chapman served as president of the board until he moved from the community and Hugh McConnell moved up from the vice presidency to head the group Sam Chamberlin a village council representative was treasurer of the body until his council term expired A B Swain another councilman succeeded him as treasurer Mrs Paul J Lee has served continuously as secretary

Charles Ross landscape engineer for state highway parks of the district, is responsible for mapping and executing the plans for both sides of the park It was he who visualized away back in 1945 the scenic arrangement that is the park today

The roadside park includes a spacious parking lot an attractive fountain house, numerous fireplaces and picnic tables and sanitary toilets separated by a tool house where park equipment is stored

The village of Lucas provides a free water supply and will provide free power for lighting both sides as soon as fixtures for the light standards, now on order, arrive and are erected. The village stood the expense of running the utility lines into the park.

Organizations and individuals have given equipment, money materials and services toward improvement of the playground area The Melco plant of the Ohio Public Service company made and erected the first of the three swing standards The Mansfield Structural and Erecting company donated the other two swing standards and the standards for the basketball court, now under construction Other firms and individuals have given tables fireplaces, stone, slag and similar materials as well as labor Still others have indicated their willingness to add more improvements

John Etzwiler, well known Lucas resident, has been the park custodian since it was opened to the public His efficiency and long hours of work, with some of his time donated have given the Lucas Memorial park the reputation of being one of the neatest in Ohio

Federal Road Aid Sought In Crawford

Bid Action Delayed Pending 'Matching'

BUCYRUS — An effort will be made by Crawford county commissioners to obtain federal aid for a $34,171 road improvement project, Walter Sargel of Galion, commissioners' chairman, reported last week.

The board delayed acting on bids submitted for the project until the possibility of obtaining "matching" funds from the federal government is investigated.

Under the "matching" arrangement, the cost of the road work would be shared equally by the county and the federal government.

Two companies submitted bids for the project, which calls for resurfacing of 17 miles of county roads. The Senton Construction company of Ashland submitted a bid of $32,438. Only other bidder was that of $34,226 by the Budyrus Materials company.

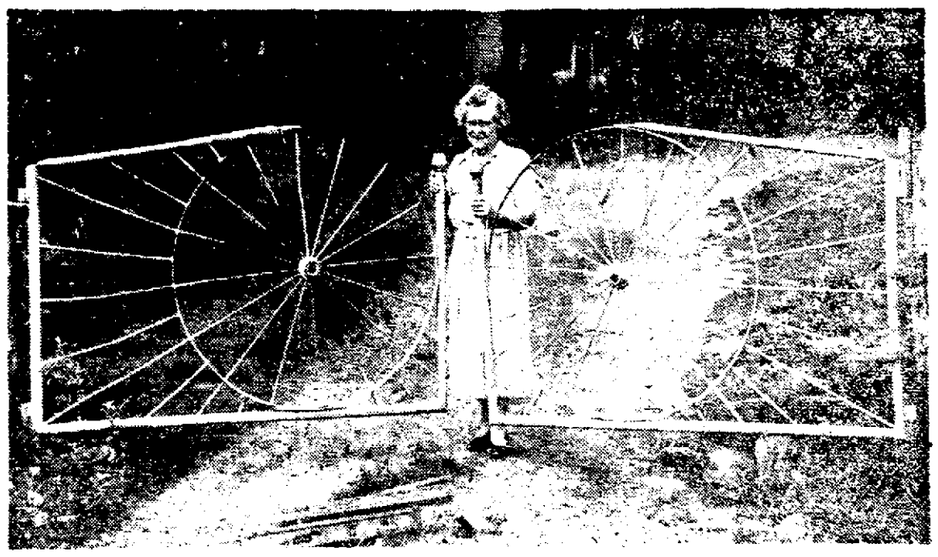
The latter company recently was awarded a contract for improvement of 19 miles of county roads at a cost of $28,867.

Holmes Hires County Nurse

MILLERSBURG — Miss Eleanor Campbell, of Nashville, was employed by the Holmes county commissioners as a county health nurse at a salary of $200 a month plus $50 a month for traveling expenses as per schedule of the health department.

Miss Campbell is a graduate Grant Hospital School of Nursing in Columbus and served on the hospital staff there. She served as nurse at the state School for the deaf in Columbus for five years. For 4½ years she belonged to the Army Nurse Corp and three years of that time she spent in the European theater of war.

Monday Miss Campbell will go to Canton to take an orientation course for a public health nurse and will assume her duties here around the middle of August.



LUCAS WOMAN DESIGNS COLORFUL GATE—Mrs. Clarence Jones, wife of the village milk dealer, is known in Lucas as a woman with ideas and the will to execute them. She stands, above, with a gate as latest proof that she is a "designing woman." Several months ago she laid back two unused plow wheels against the time she might "have an idea." The gate, above, constructed by a welder from her penciled plans, is the result. Right now she is at work on a fly trap of ingenious style.

Area Woman Is Registrar For Sessions At Lakeside

CRESTLINE — Mrs. J. B. McCarter, of Crestline, will serve as registrar at the Northeast Conference division of the Lakeside School of Christian Service of the Methodist church. The six-day session opens this afternoon.

Registration, introduction of faculty and missionaries and a reception and tea, sponsored by officers of the Norwalk District Women's Society of Christian Service, are scheduled for the opening meeting.

Mrs. H. F. Brandy of Cleveland is chairman of the school and Mrs. Herbert J. Thompson of Akron is dean. Other officers include Mrs. McCarter; Mrs. Paul Secrest of Akron, vice chairman; Mrs. S. K. Worthen of Akron, associate dean, and Mrs. Merritt Powell of Mantua, secretary-treasurer.

Following the theme "Towards One World in Christ," the school will continue through Saturday offering four accredited courses and one course in methods under the direction of Mrs. Wilbur Ale of Detroit, Miss Adella Langill of Battle Creek, Mich., Mrs. Ruth Worrell of New York City, Miss Leona Winegarden of Elk Rapids, Mich., and Mrs. W. B. Landrum of Tyler, Texas.

Children's and a girls' schools also will be held in connection with the adult school.

Ohio Conference division will be held in Lakeside during the following week, July 24 to 30.

Junior Class Festival Set At Sulphur Springs

TIRO — The Junior class of Sulphur Springs high school will sponsor a festival in its school grounds Friday with supper served at 6 p. m. Refreshment and amusement stands will operate all evening with proceeds going into the class treasury. Arven Striker, president, announced.

Several concerts are planned by the New Washington band. In case of rain the festival will be held in the school building.

NAMED DON WARDEN

MILLERSBURG — Holmes county commissioners last week made the temporary appointment of Otto M. Lyle, of Killbuck, permanent as a county dog warden.

Dr. Clayton To Speak In Band Shell Tonight

ASHLAND — Dr. Glenn Clayton, president of Ashland college, will occupy the pulpit at the regular Sunday evening union church service at Brookside park this evening.

Park Street Brethren church is in charge of the Weekly service which is to take place at the new Guy C. Myers Memorial band shell in the park. The service opens at 7:30 p. m.

'Broken Homes' In High Places

EXCEPT for the fact that "broken homes" play such an important part in contributing to juvenile delinquency, divorce might be considered as a purely personal matter by those who have no regard for religious restraints.

It can scarcely have escaped public attention, however, that the marked increase in divorces in recent years reflects a change in public attitude toward temporary marriages and quick remarriages and there is a feeling that examples in high places have had a considerable effect on the light regard that some people have for the "until death do us part" obligation of the marriage ceremony.

In addition to other attention-attracting happenings in the Franklin D. Roosevelt family, the record of divorces is one that would seem to popularize the idea that marriage is designed for a little while, rather than as a permanent contract.

Most recent divorce proceeding in that family circle is the action by John Boettinger to divorce Anna Roosevelt, who had previously been divorced from Curtis Dall.

Not long ago the wife of Franklin D. Roosevelt jr., now congressman from New York, secured a Reno divorce.

It was Elliott who was first in the family to break into the divorce game, with a quick remarriage, a second divorce—and now making a third try.

Then there is James, oldest of the Roosevelt sons, who has had one divorce and later remarried.

Altogether there are fourteen grandsons and granddaughters of the late President in the various families, and it is noted that Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt was in attendance at each of the weddings and welcomed each addition to the flock.

John, the youngest of the sons, is the only one that has thus far avoided the divorce court, and it seems worthy of mention that he is regarded as the "most settled" member of the family—which suggests the question, "Is that bad?"

Health Seen As World Problem

DELEGATES from 64 nations to the second United Nations World Health Assembly in Rome made several decisions which have the potential power to make radical changes in the lives of millions of people.

In co-operation with the United Nations Food and Agricultural Organization, both health improvement and soil conservation are to be forwarded by the cultivation of ten million acres of poorly-used land in areas where diet-deficiency diseases are prevalent.

A thorough study of mental health is also planned, and the training of doctors and other health workers is to be stepped up. In many thickly-populated regions only one doctor exists for every 12,000 people. Sanitation education is to be carried out with the idea of doing away with many diseases resulting from its neglect.

The lack of fanfare with which the work of this United Nations subsidiary is carried out is deceptive in the light of its real importance. Never before in the history of the world has the plight of a starving, disease-ridden child in Burma, for instance, become the concern of the whole world, as represented in this meeting in Rome.

More Light On 'Dark Continent'

MORE LIGHT is about to be let into the "Dark Continent."

Next October a conference will open at Johannesburg, South Africa, for the purpose of beginning extensive research into the scientific problems of the territories included in Africa.

After reviewing existing facilities for research, the scientists will study the physical character of the continent, including climate and meteorology, the soils and plant life, and animal life, as well as native customs and social conditions. Housing, road building and industry also will be covered.

The aim of this extensive international project is to improve and increase the population of Africa, and also to fit it for a new role as a source of food and raw materials for a world which is short of both.

The world today cannot afford to leave any part of a continent of the size and potential richness of Africa in a state of stagnation. Its immense resources, uncovered and developed by the co-operation of many countries, can be used for the good of all.

Danger In Devaluing Money

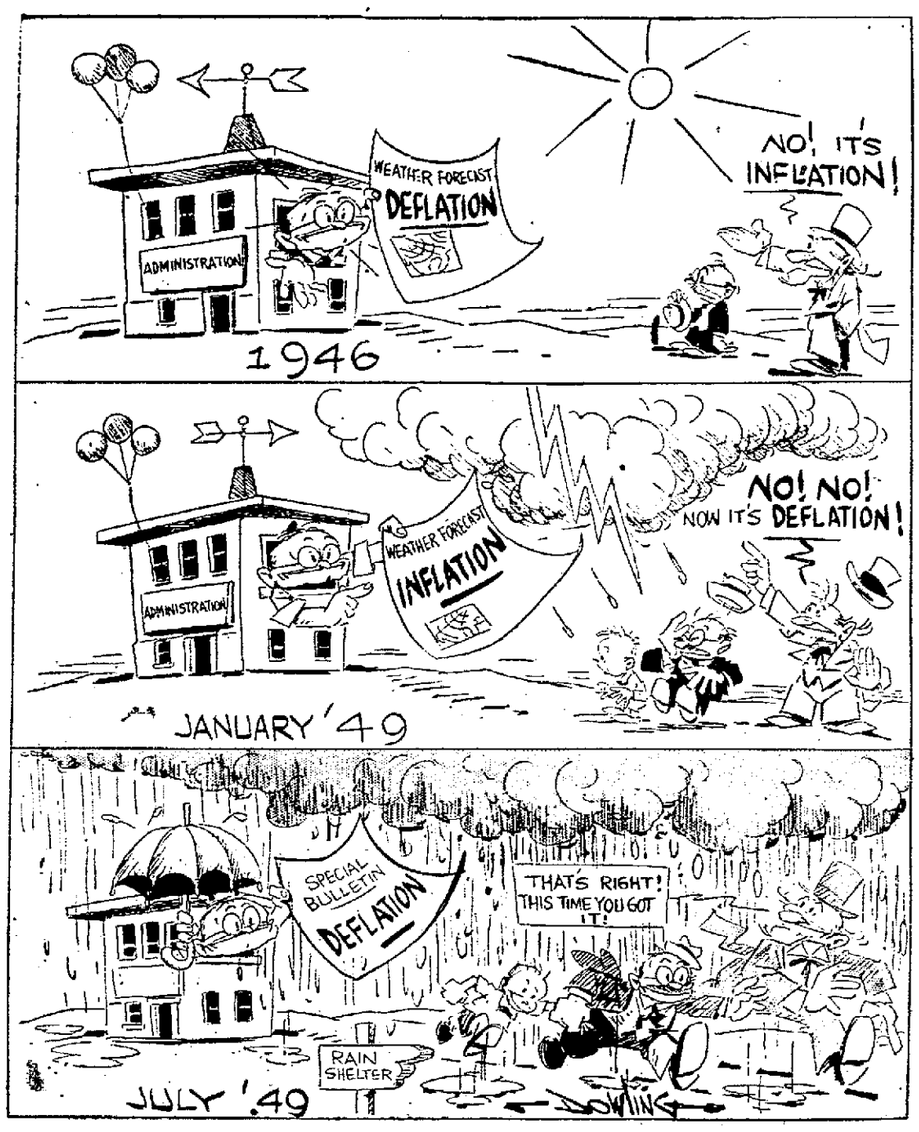
IT OFTEN SEEMS that the first thing European economists think of when economic troubles appear is to change the declared value of the currency, or put new limitations on its circulation. To United States Treasury Secretary John Snyder, in Europe to study the continent's economic ills, the French minister of finance the other day suggested that everything would be all right if the United States would devalue the dollar.

A quite opposite measure was taken on the very same day by Finland, which devalued its own currency in an attempt to cure a decline of exports. And these things happened, too, on the day that Sir Stafford Cripps, British chancellor of the exchequer, told the House of Commons that although Britain was in a new economic crisis the government has "not the slightest intention" of devaluing the pound, a remedy frequently advocated.

Cripps told Commons that not currency manipulation but greater production of goods at lower cost would solve Britain's ills. Secretary Snyder told the French minister something of the same sort for France and the rest of Europe.

The House of Representatives, moved to an air-conditioned committee room because of Capitol repairs, found it chilly. The first good debate ought to fix that.

Claude Callan quips: "All men are born equal, but some are able to pull out of it and make something of themselves."



Nice to Have You With Us, Professor.

A Voice From the Country

New Deal 'Liberals' Aided Communists

By LOUIS BROMFIELD

MELODRAMA, mystery and general confusion have marked the trials both of Judith Coplon and Alger Hiss. The truth concerning the general accusations in both cases may never be known, even by the defendants themselves because of the circumstances and complications surrounding both cases. By now it is probable that neither Miss Coplon or Mr. Hiss has any real idea of what the truth is in what for them can only be a deeply tragic experience. If the trials prove anything, they prove that a couple of young people were inclined to believe that they were smarter than the average run of people, and could get away with things which might lead less clever people into difficulties.

BROMFIELD

They also prove the dangers of placing in positions of responsibility young people whose cleverness far exceeds their experience in life.

The New Deal peopled Washington with young men like Hiss --clever, brilliant, sometimes even attractive young men—snatched out of colleges and graduating classes merely because they had high marks and "progressive" ideas. With them came troupes of college professors and minor bureaucrats whose only qualification was their "liberal" ideas.

The group as a whole was catnip for the communists. It was exactly the kind of group which the communists in Europe have used again and again to ferret their way into power. When they had finished with them, the "liberals" were either liquidated or forced to flee for their lives.

It is very clear, as circumstances come to light bit by bit, that these New Deal "liberals" were being used here by the communists exactly as they were used in Europe. Even Mrs. Roosevelt discovered that she was being "used."

* * *

Flattered By Attentions.

SOME of the youngish and "liberal" young people and professors were flattered by the attentions they received and overwhelmed by the sudden importance thrust upon them. It is only natural that in their inexperience, they should lose their heads and come to believe themselves a great deal smarter than the ordinary run of mankind and therefore able to put over ideas and to indulge in intrigues which would prove disastrous to less clever people.

Many of them came even to regard with contempt the more solid elements among their fellow citizens. The impatience and consistent arrogance of Mr. Hiss is a good case in point.

The story has ended in disaster and blight for many of them and for some even in prison sentences. Brilliance is a pleasant quality but balance is of greater importance in government.

Meanwhile few, if any, of the genuine communist elements, which used the young "liberals," has suffered. True, the more obvious ones have been eliminated from positions of trust; but they are still at work and they still exert influence among young people, politically and naive scientists and muddle-headed older people.

* * *

Wrong Associates.

THE TRUTH is that Miss Coplan and Mr. Hiss got themselves into trouble by associating with a great many people they should not have associated with. Believing in their own cleverness, they thought they could play with fire only to be burnt.

I knew a good many of the young "liberals" in Washington and at the time suggested they were being foolish in associating with some of the people whom they counted, disastrously, as their "friends."

Recently one of them brought suit against the Hearst papers charging libel because he had been called a communist. He wrote to me asking for an affidavit stating that I knew he was not a communist. I gave the matter a lot of conscientious thought and finally came to the conclusion that I could not do it.

Considering the records and my own long experience in Europe and the tactics of the communists themselves, I was forced to write: "I cannot do it. There is no way of knowing whether or not you were a communist then or now. I wish it were otherwise but frankly, considering your close affiliations with people whom I know were communists. I cannot make such an affidavit. The communist tactics have ruined my faith even in your own declarations."

One cannot convict people on the basis of "guilt by association" but unfortuantely that association, especially considering the tactics of the communists, is a damning one. That is the trouble that has plagued Miss Coplon and Mr. Hiss.

It is not ended. Despite Mr. Truman's silly cry of "hysteria" there is plenty of danger, especially when one is dealing with the morals and ethics of a group like the communists who believe themselves smart enough to ignore such things.

There are still plenty of the same young "liberals" in Washington who want to impose their ideas upon the rest of the nation, regardless of any factor save a hunger for power. The faces, some of them, are new but the situation is the same.

Looking Back

Twenty Years Ago Today

Wednesday, July 17, 1929

Finishing touches were being given interior of new Farmers Bank building.

Marriage license was issued to man in probate court fifteen minutes after he had been granted divorce in common pleas court.

Miss Ida Bertolucci and Gust A. Doran were married by Rev. Fr. Karl G. Brand at Port Clinton.

Lighting of fair grounds track for night racing was being considered.

Daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. James Connors, 24 East First street.

Glenn B. Maxwell, 39, died at his home near Lexington.

Walter Watkins was removed from General hospital to his home, 261 South Adams street.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Tracy, of Salt Lake City, Utah, were visiting here.

TODAY IN HISTORY

King's College, New York—now Columbia University—was opened in the vestry-room of Trinity church on July 17, 1754, with a total enrollment of ten students.

It Says Here:

—By KEN WOODMAN

WELL, it looks as if Congress will remain in session at least through a part of August but the experts are guessing the senators and representatives will be out of the committee rooms by Labor Day.

* * *

Anyhow, it's a foregone conclusion they'll be in the bleachers by World Series time.

* * *

Senators Taft and Flanders had a pretty good idea, last week, in suggesting an extension of the Monroe doctrine to replace the Atlantic charter. The charter is just a little politer way of saying we'll defend western Europe if those nations are attacked. That's what Monroe said, bluntly, about South America and nobody from the rest of the world has invaded there since he spoke up.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Senators' Wives Also Have 'Coalition'

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Even the senators' wives are embroiled in the Republican - Dixiecrat coalition that now really rules the Senate. The Senate ladies' auxiliary, sometimes called the Senate ladies luncheon club, is a friendly organization of all Senate wives regardless of politics, which ordinarily is presided over by the wife of the vice - president. But since Alben Barkley is a widower and the next Democrat in line—President Pro Tem of the Senate Kenneth McKellar — is a bachelor, the next ranking wife is Mrs. Millard Tydings of Maryland whose husband was elected to the Senate in 1927.

PEARSON

Mrs. Tydings, daughter of Ex-Ambassador Joe Davies, is one of the loveliest ladies in the Senate, and it has always been taken for granted that the wife with the most seniority should be automatically elected.

However, the club's by-laws call for an election in case there is no vice-president, and this year Mrs. Taft of Ohio, as astute as she is charming, saw to it that the by-laws were carried out.

Rather than see her rival, Mrs. Tydings, elected, Mrs. Taft rallied the Republican wives behind a Dixiecrat dark horse — Helen Ellender, wife of the senator from Louisiana. This was contrary to all tradition, since Senator Ellender wasn't elected until 10 years after Tydings.

But as in the Senate, the G.O.P. - Dixiecrat coalition won and Mrs. Ellender became president of the ladies' auxiliary. That's the reason for the social icicles today whenever Mrs. Taft and Mrs. Tydings meet.

Note — Chief activity of the ladies' auxiliary is Red Cross work. Once a week, the wives don Red Cross uniforms, meet in two spacious rooms allotted for them in the Senate office building. Meanwhile, Senate employes are cramped for lack of space. Yet Senator Ellender, whose wife has charge of the two empty rooms, is blocking a bill to construct a new office building.

Religious Debate.

MOST important issue now being discussed, in Capitol Hill cloakrooms is the religious fight over federal aid to education. This was brought to a head when Cardinal Spellman hurled the "bigot" charge at Congressman Graham Barden of North Carolina, author of the provision that no money from the education bill be used for any religious school — whether Catholic, Baptist or Methodist.

Ever since, congressmen's offices have been deluged with mail — on both sides of the question — some of it bitter.

One Congressman who met the issue early is Rep. Andrew Jacobs, Indiana Democrat, himself a Catholic, but who has defended Barden against Cardinal Spellman's attack.

Going back to his home town, Indianapolis, some time ago, Jacobs attended a Knights of Columbus meeting where he put the issue of federal education up to a large group of Catholics. After lengthy debate the consensus of opinion was that federal money should not go to parochial schools.

"The only one who disagreed," says Congressman Jacobs, "was the priest. The non-clergy Catholics all felt there was a great danger to the church if federal money was used for church schools. Eventually, the government might dominate the thinking of those schools."

* * *

State Over Church.

CONGRESSMAN John McSweeney of Ohio has taken a similar view. Writing to Father Edward S. Hannon of Wooster, O., McSweeney argued:

"Although I realize that parents of parochial school children are taxpayers, I know that you will agree with me in that these parents have the freedom of choice between sending their children to a public or a parochial school.

"I wish to point out also that there is always the possibility that parochial schools would lose their identity as such should they receive public funds since public school officials are entrusted with the task of establishing educational standards which run counter to the teaching of the particular church sponsoring parochial schools. This would result in clashes of ideology.

"I firmly believe that a great danger would be encountered by parochial schools should they receive public funds and thereby come under the control of state boards of education.

On the other hand, Congressmen Lesinski of Michigan and Kennedy of Massachusetts, both Catholics and both Democratic members of the education and labor committee, are endeavoring to bottle the bill in committee and state quite frankly that they are motivated by church opposition.

Backward Look

—By ANNE CAMPBELL

Parents look back across the changing years,
When life was sometimes easy, sometimes rough,
And realize through their regretful tears,
That love was not enough.

More than love must be lavished on a child.
A soul needs chastening to make it tough.
Wisdom and care will keep it undefiled;
Mere love is not enough.

Assignment: America

Story Brightens the Day

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK—What with recession, the English dollar shortage (not to mention my own), the heat, the humidity, the drought, the efforts of some darn fool to raise chickens without wings and of another ditto to grow watermelons without seeds, I have been real down in the mouth recently. However, I am enormously cheered up at the moment. moment. My failing spirits have been perked up considerably by the intelligence that Princess Margaret Rose has shown a fleet pair of heels and what the British press refers to as "frilly black underpants" while doing a can-can at the American embassy in London the other night.

INEZ ROBB

This is a portentious item of news that can scarcely be topped this season unless a Miss Margaret Truman does the hula on a table at 10 Downing street or the Quai D'Orsay---naturally, while singing the quartet from "Rigoletto."

There are bound to be certain grumps who will see in the princess' spirted performance of this french Bowery dance the ultimate level to which socialism has brought the once-great empire.

However, there are others among us who have tried to do the can-can, who have attempted to stand on the toes of one foot while whirling the other limb head-high in a rapid pin-wheel movement, who will just be content to sit back and say the kid's got talent.

I tried it once after my first visit to the "Follies Bergere," with the damage equally divided between a hotel chandelier and my sacrioliac.

What I want out of London now is a follow-up story. I am not content just to know that Princess Margaret is a chip off old Uncle Davy. I am not satisfied with the mere knowledge that she teamed up with Miss Sharman Douglas and ten other girls, all wearing fluffy black dresses, sheer black hoses, "frilly black underpants" and elaborately plumed hats.

* * *

What Happened Next?

WHAT I want to know is simply this: Is the princess eating off the mantel as of now?

I other words, does Buckingham Palace have a wood shed, and is George VI equal to giving those frilly black underpants a good work-out with a handy piece of kindling?

Furthermore, I am the old fun-loving rover who is not half so much inclined to credit socialism as exhibitionism for the goings-on at the American embassy.

And I give fair warning right now: If the British start yammering about the effect of American loose living on their princess, I am going to start yammering right back about the reputation royalty is imparting to our embassy.

It always was a real nice, high class joint until royalty began whooping it up with the can-can.

It is redundant to point out that Princess Margaret's great, great grandmaw, Queen Victoria, is doubtless twirling in her grave like Whirling Willie, the Danville dervish.

My grandma—and what she would have done to me if I had shown my underpants in public is a caution--once told me what happened to a lady who merely snapped her garter in the good queen's presence at Buckingham.

It shouldn't have happened to a dog much less a great diva like Mme. Emma Calve.

Mme. Calve, the greatest "Carmen" of all time, was invited to give a command performance at Buckingham. The performance was pluperfect until Mme. Calve, in the role of the gypsy huzzy, snapped her garter.

Grandma said the atmosphere in Buckingham dropped fifty degrees fahrenheit in ten seconds. When the performance ended, her majesty, who usually received all persons commanded to perform at the palace, stalked out without so much as a nod to Mme. Calve.

And now the great great granddaughter of a queen, who would not tolerate a snapped garter, dances the can-can and shows her frilled underpants in public.

Ah, well, at least on the princess they look good.

Dave Boone Says:

I NEVER knew a fellow who could frighten folks more with his explanations of why nobody should be scared about our economic situation than Harry Truman.

The biggest debt in history is not alarming, the unbalanced budget is not alarming, and the idea of spending more than you take in is not alarming, he says. And you're a "selfish interest" if you disagree.

* * *

I don't know what Washington would do without those "selfish interests." They come in mighty handy when somebody has to be found to put the blame on for any trouble anywhere. And now they are back in the script again.

Listen World

The Twenty-Third Psalm

By ELSIE ROBINSON

THE LORD IS MY SHEPHERD.

(Like some poor sheep, I wander with the human flock not knowing why I am nor where I go. I cannot see God's face nor hear His voice, for I am blind with ignorance and deaf with doubt and fear. Yet, as sheep feel the shepherd's guiding will, so do I feel as Force behind my life, and dimly sense a Purpose and a Plan. And when I falter, something in me cries — "Go on! You are not lost — the shepherd knows the fold to which you go.")

I SHALL NOT WANT.

(My body may know poverty and pain. But God has placed within me secret springs which shall sustain me when I'm poor and weak. I still have Beauty, when my gold is gone — and Friendship when my pantry shelf is bare — and Courage, like red wine, to warm my soul!)

HE MAKETH ME TO LIE DOWN IN GREEN PASTURES: HE LEADETH ME BESIDE STILL WATERS.

(Earth's pasiured wither when the winters come. Earth's waters dry up when springtime rains are done. But love has pastures which are ever green and Faith has fountains which no drought can seal.)

HE RESTORETH MY SOUL: HE LEADETH ME IN THE PATHS OF RIGHTEOUSNESS FOR HIS NAME'S SAKE.

(Two selves live in me, one a greedy brute, the other a bright stranger, whom I call my Soul. And often the fierce brute drives out the Soul. But something turns my face once more to seek the truth.)

YEA, THOUGH I WALK THROUGH THE VALLEY OF THE SHADOW OF DEATH I WILL FEAR NO EVIL; FOR THOU ART WITH ME, THY ROD AND THEY STAFF COMFORT ME.

(There are so many deaths in life. Death of our loved ones—death of cherished dreams—death of our pride and confidence and peace. Each day death's shadow falls across our path. But bright against the shadows blazes Hope. For always after night the morning comes, and always after winter comes the spring. And not one grain of sand is ever lost. Shall man, alone, be wasted from God's hand?)

THOU PREPAREST A TABLE BEFORE ME IN THE PRESENCE OF MINE ENEMIES: THOU ANOINTEST MY HEAD WITH OIL; MY CUP RUNNETH OVER.

("Mine enemies" — they are those foes that live in my own self — my hate and fear, my envy and conceit, how often they have won the victory! But when I catch a vision of the truth and lift myself a little higher from the mire, then, for a time, I'm freed from my base self and know the pride and joy of some great conqueror.)

SURELY GOODNESS AND MERCY SHALL FOLLOW ME ALL THE DAYS OF MY LIFE, AND I WILL DWELL IN THE HOUSE OF THE LORD FOREVER.

("My Father's house" — that's not some strange, far place, but just the common world in which I spend my days. All of my hours are His arching rooms. My life is built into His living walls. All that I am or do is part of Him. His mercy comprehends my blundering. His goodness girds His weak and stupid child. I can not go far that He is left behind.

(So, though I do not know the how or why, and though I never yet have seen His face, I need not fear. For where life goes, I go, and life is God. And I am part of His eternal mystery.)

Speaking of Your Health

That Medicine Cabinet

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THE next time you go into your bathroom do what I did the other day. Take a look inside the medicine cabinet. The chances are that it is cluttered up with everything from half-empty bottles of medicine prescribed for illnesses, long since cured, to stray hairpins and cosmetics.

It is this catch-all character of the average family medicine chest which makes doctors regard it as more of a hazard than an ever-present help in time of trouble.

To be really useful, the medicine cabinet need contain only a few articles. Several rolls of gauze, a packet of sterile cotton, and some adhesive tape dressings are essential. There should also be a bottle of some mild antiseptic.

A mild ointment for minor burns may be of value. Salves and ointments in tubes as a rule are preferred to those in jars because they remain sterile for a longer period of time.

Mild Antiseptic.

A good mild antiseptic is a 2 per cent solution of iodine and alcohol. It should be tightly stoppered and replaced at regular intervals because, if the alcohol evaporates, the solution becomes too strong.

Medicines change when allowed to stand too long. They do not keep indefinitely. While these chemical changes may not make the drug dangerous, they do cause the preparations to lose their effectiveness. Thus they are good for nothing but to take up space in the cabinet.

This loss of potency, due to standing for several months, is not only true of many medicines but of vitamins as well.

Every preparation which is kept should be carefully labelled. If you do not know what a bottle or box contains, get rid of it.

Cause of Poisonings.

Despite all the warnings of recent safety campaigns, the home medicine cabinet is still the cause of many accidental poisonings. Many of those could be avoided by careful labelling and the enforcement of a household rule that the label be read before administering any medicine.

Children can and should be taught never to poke or pry into the cabinet and, as an added safeguard, dangerous drugs should be kept on the highest shelf, out of the reach of curious fingers.

The medicine chest can be useful if it contains the proper preparations, but it may also be a source of danger if it becomes a catch-all for pills, pins, used medicines, and cosmetics.

Crack Down On Dumping Of Garbage

Two Caught, Fined $10 Each

An intensive campaign against dumping garbage along Richland county roads is under way by law enforcement officials and the Mansfield - Richland County Health department.

Two persons appeared in Municipal court yesterday for the violation and sheriff's deputies said several more persons would be cited into court Monday morning.

Fined $10 and cost each for dumping garbage in a ditch along Poth road were Harold Herrick, of 210 Bowman street, and Henry Christian, of Mansfield, R. D. 3. Both admitted the charge when they appeared before Municipal Judge H. H. Schettler.

Violators are being tried under a recently passed state law that carries a fine of up to $50, Sheriff's deputies said.

Charges against the two that appeared in court yesterday were filed by John Roach, who lives near the spot the garbage was dumped.

Officers said witnesses reported the license number of the cars, which assisted in the arrests.

The health department has sent out a call for assistance in apprehending violators. They ask residents of areas where garbage is being dumped to spot the license number of the cars or to get any other identification and relay the information to the health department or sheriff's office.

Song Service Will Be Highlight of Vespers

A 30 - minute song service by the choir of the Shiloh Baptist church will be a feature of tonight's outdoor vesper service at South park. The service will begin at 7:30 p. m.

Rev. A. J. Payne, pastor of the Shiloh Baptist church, who is in charge of this week's outdoor program, will deliver the sermon.

Tonight's service will be the third in the series of outdoor religious programs being held under the trees at South park.

The services, sponsored by the Mansfield Ministerial association, are interdenominational and open to members of all churches.

More than 100 persons attended this year's first outdoor service and last week the number attending grew to 350.

Senior members of Delta Sigma Zeta are, like thousands of other Mansfielders, part of the "wicker basket and thermos bottle" set this summer.

Avid picnickers are never so happy as when seated cross-legged on a shady patch of ground with sandwiches and cold drinks spread out before them, shooing away mountains of ants and other fauna.

These Delta Sigma Zeta girls are all seniors at Mansfield Senior high school. Marilyn Witmer serves as president of the group; Audrey Pirrgo is vice president; Joan Bruce, secretary; Margaret Christ, treasurer; and Barbara Freeland, pledge mistress.

Besides being enthusiastic picnickers in the summer, their months are filled with fun and good deeds. On the fun side is an annual Christmas dance hat members look forward o eagerly every year. Another main event in the life of a Delta Sigma Zeta is the annual dinner honoring their mothers and senior members who are graduating from high school. Their good deeds are done during the holiday seasons when they all fix baskets for needy families.

The "uniform" for a Senior high school picnicker is shorts and T-shirt or one of Dad's old shirts, as you can see by the accompanying pictures. The outfit is universal for the teen-ager on an outing and each will vow that there's nothing more comfortable. But, whether clad in blue jeans, shorts, skirts, or bathing suits, Summer is the picnic season and few picnics end without everyone in the group saying, "We sure had a swell time, didn't we?"

KATHERINE NETHERO WED SATURDAY

Miss Katherine Nethero became the bride of Raymond P Mastandrea Saturday morning at 9 30 o'clock in St. Peter's Catholic church Msgr. R C Goebel officiated for the double ring ceremony. On each side of the communion rail was placed a beauty basket filled with pastel shades of gladioli and astors Along the stairs leading to the altar were placed palms Two tall white burning tapers were placed on either side of the altar Palms and ferns were used for a background

Miss Nethero is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Clyde A Nethero, 332 West Fifth street, and Mr. Mastandrea is the son of Mr and Mrs Frank Mastandrea. 368 Newman street.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, chose a lovely summer sheer starched marquisette gown for her wedding The portrait neckline was edged with a wide ruffle of matching material The long tight fitting sleeves came to points over the hands Built over crinoline hip pads was the very full skirt which was attached to a tight fitting bodice A panel of ruffles trimmed the back of the skirt which extended into a very long formal train The last ruffle edged the full width of the skirt

A three tiered veil of French silk illusion was held in place by a tiara style headpiece of pearls and crystal The headpiece was worn by Mrs Dominic R Sammataro, sister of the bridegroom, at her wedding.

Miss Nethero carried a cascade arrangement of white roses and white shattered carnations They were tied with white satin ribbons

Attendants for the bride were Mrs Sammatro of Connecticut, matron of honor, with Mrs Frank Mastandrea, twin sister of the bride and Miss Beverly Gutchall a close friend of the bride, as bridesmaids The gowns were made of starched marquisette with portrait necklines, edged by two little ruffles Under the ruffles were little puffed sleeves Two matching ruffles trimmed the very full skirts in a little apron effect coming up to the back of the gown and finished with a large bow The bodice came to points in the front Tiny ruffled poke bonnets matching their gowns were trimmed in multicolor flowers in keeping with their garden bouquets Mrs Sammataro was attired in summer pink and the bridesmaids wore sky blue

Colonial arrangements of pastel shaded gladioli and astors were carried by the attendants.

Mrs Nethero chose a black bemberg sheer dress over black and white taffeta for her daughter's wedding White accessories completed her ensemble Mrs Mastandrea was attired in a navy and white sheer print dress with white accessories Both mothers had pale pink carnation corsages

George Berick, a close friend of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Guests were escorted to their pews by Frank Mastandrea, brother of the bridegroom, and Michael Spritzle, friend of the couple.

Immediately following the service a wedding breakfast was held at the bride's home for the immediate families and bridal party The long table was centered with garden flowers

The bridal party received one hundred guests during the afternoon at Johns park pavilion The serving table was centered with a tall four tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom Surrounding the bottom layer was cultivated smilax and ferns intermingled with sweetpeas Two six branch candelbra lighted the table laid in silver and crystal at which the bridal attendants presided For traveling through northern Michigan and Canada, Mrs Mastandrea wore a dark brown and chartreuse butcher linen summer suit. Under the cape effect jacket, which had a stand up collar, the bride wore a sheer white blouse Her accessories were of white and brown.

After August 1 the couple will be at home to friends at 165½ Glessner avenue.

Mrs Mastandrea is a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school and employed at Lumbermens Mutual Insurance company Mr Mastandrea is also a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school He is employed as an electrician with the Ohio Brass company

Miss Donna Mae Porter Wed On Friday

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Donna Mae Porter became the bride of John J. Cicolani in a lovely formal open church ceremony Friday evening at the Central Methodist church. For her wedding the bride wore a beautiful off-white satin gown, fashioned with an imported lace bodice. The gown had a high round neckline, short cap sleeves and a cumberbund of satin, which was softly draped at the waistline and a double puffed bustle extended low in the back. The very full circular skirt extended in a long sweeping train.

Completing her ensemble were long gauntlets which buttoned tightly at the wrists. Her headpiece, of waxed French orange blossoms, backed by folds of illusion, held the imported French silk illusion fingertip veil, which was worn by Mrs. J. E. Garrison at her wedding.

She carried a shower bouquet of white roses, pompons and white asters with a corsage of white roses in the center, which was worn later with her traveling costume.

Miss Porter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin C. Porter, 661 West Glendale boulevard, exchanged vows with Mr. Cicolani, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cicolani, at 7:30 p. m. in a double ring ceremony. Mr. Cicolani is with the U. S. Navy, stationed in Trinidad, B. W. I.

Rev. J. Frank Stewart officiated before a large group of friends and relatives.

The altar, before which the ceremony was performed, was decorated with palms, ferns and two beauty baskets of all white glads, stocks and pompons. Two seven-branch candelabra completed the setting. White satin bows marked the family pews.

Preceding the service Miss Elizabeth Burneson played a program of nuptial music and Ervin Porter, cousin of the bride, was soloist.

Mrs. J. L. Cicolani, sister-in-law of the groom, served as matron of honor. Miss Betty Pagnard was bridesmaid and Lois Gene Allen served as flower girl.

The attendants' gowns were in a lovely summer shades of nile green, lilac and yellow. They were made in keeping with the style of the bride's gown, with high round necklines, cap sleeves and a scalloped design of Chantilly lace, on starched marquisette.

The bodice and skirt were joined with a wide midriff of marquisette and a deep side ruffle of lace extended around the waistline into a peplum effect. The skirts were extremely full and worn over stiff crinoline skirts. Mrs. Cicolani was attired in green, Miss Pagnard in lilac and Miss Allen in yellow. All of the attendants carried modernistic arrangements of purple asters and Talisman roses, and matching floral pieces in their hair.

Mrs. Porter chose a brown sheer frock with mist brown and beige accessories and wore a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Harold White sr., sister of the bridegroom, wore a print dress with blue accessories and a corsage of white gardenias.

James L. Cicolani, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Richard Cicolani, the bridegroom's brother, and J. E. Garrison of Mansfield, Willard Folett of Columbus and Gordon Lown of Mansfield.

Immediately following the service a reception was held at the ballroom of the Mansfield Leland hotel for 150 guests. A five tiered wedding cake, surrounded by green fern, white gardenias and white pompons, centered the long serving table. Miss Martha Bricker of Shelby and Mrs. Richard Cicolani presided at the reception table.

Later the couple left for a trip through northern Michigan. For traveling the bride wore a Dacia sheer over a polka dot slip with green and brown accessories and a white topper.

While Mr. Cicolani is on leave they will reside with the Porters. Mrs. Cicolani plans to join her husband in Trinidad in the future.

The bride was graduated from Madison high school and attended Bowling Green State University. She is a member of the local chapter of Sigma Kappa Gamma. Mr. Cicolani is a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school and served four years in the Navy during the war.

The bride has been employed as a payroll clerk in the accounting department at Westinghouse Electric Corporation.

Among the guests presen were the bride's grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Porter and Mrs. Anna Reeley of Marion. Other guests were from Marion, Cleveland, Columbus, New York City, Chicago, Bowling Green and California.

Richard Fenn, Janice Busch Wed In June

An arrangement of red gladioli and white carnations in two large vases flanked by ferns and huckleberry palms formed a decorative setting for the candlelight wedding ceremony, June 12, of Miss Janice Busch and Richard W. Fenn at Glenwood Methodist church in Columbus. The Rev. Joseph B. Shellhaaus officiated for the service.

The bride is the daughter of Robert E. Busch and the late Mrs. Busch, 164 Whitethorne avenue, Columbus, and Mr Fenn is the son of Mrs. Fenn and the late William N. Fenn, 156 Carpenter road.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a period gown of heavy ivory satin with sleeves extending to points over the hands. Accentuating her gown was a sheer yoke edged with a wide bertha of Irish lace. The bouffant skirt ended in a long cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion was held in place by a tiara of orange blossoms. The bride carried a cascade arrangement of pink roses.

She was attended by Miss Mildred Meal, maid of honor, who wore an American beauty taffeta faille gown with matching headpiece and mitts. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses. Serving as flower girl was little Vicki Lee Carter, dressed in an imported white organdie dress and carrying a small bouquet of white button pompoms, with pink streamers.

Mrs. Fenn was attired in a white print bemberg sheer dress with white accessories. A corsage of pink roses completed her ensemble.

James Smith of Mansfield, a close friend of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Guests were escorted to their pews by William Dundon and Karl Leupold, Akron, fraternity brothers of the Mr. Fenn.

Assisting at the reception, held at the church immediately following the ceremony, were Miss Carolyn Fenn, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Wanita Busch, Mrs. Douglas Carter, Mrs. Robert Zetty and Mrs. Charles Cooke.

For their wedding trip to Canada, the bride changed to a navy blue silk dress with which she wore a corsage of pink roses.

The bride is a graduate of West high school, Columbus, and was formerly employed as secretary at the C. M. Barr company in Columbus. Mr. Fenn graduated from Mansfield Senior high school and is a senior in the college of pharmacy at Ohio State University, where he is a member of the Phi Kappa Tau fraternity.

The couple is residing at 164 Whitethorne avenue, Columbus.

All White Wedding Solemnized For Miss Mayer, Mr. Solomon

AN ALL-WHITE WEDDING was chosen by Miss Eva Mayer, who became the bride of John R. Solomon of Loudonville, yesterday in a beautiful ceremony at St. Peter's Catholic church at 10:30 o'clock.

The Rev. Alfred Mayer of Toledo, the bridegroom's cousin, solemnized the vows. The custom of open church was observed for the double ring nuptials.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Mayer, 254 Abbeyfeale road. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Margaret Solomon of Loudonville.

Raymond E. Baum presided at the organ. The Mass was sung by the men's quartette from the Alumni Men's Choir. Church candles burned at the altar. Two yellow vases filled with white gladiolus and white carnations were placed on the altar. Two beauty baskets of white gladiolus, white carnations, palms and ferns, were placed in the chancel.

At the entrance to the altar there were palms and ferns. White satin bows were tied to the pews of the center aisle. White satin ribbons were used on the other aisles.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a simple gown of white taffeta fashioned with a tight bodice, buttoned down the front with an open calla-lily neckline. The sleeves, long and tight, closed with a number of buttons and ended in points over her wrists.

The skirt ended gracefully in a very long train. A bustle trimmed the back of the low line of the bodice.

Her fingertip length double veil of French silk illusion was attached to a pearl and crystal beaded Juliet type headpiece. Her only jewelry was a doube strand of pearls. The pearls were a gift from the bridegroom.

The bride carried a white orchid on a white prayer book showered with stephanotis and satin ribbons. The prayer book also was a gift from Mr. Solomon.

The four attendants were Mrs. Joe Mayer, the bride's sister-in-law, who served as matron of honor, Mrs. Robert K. Bissler, the bride's cousin of Kent, O., bridesmaid; Miss Elnora Mayer, another cousin, of Moose Jaw, Sask., Canada, bridesmaid; and Miss Stella Valentine, a friend of the bride, bridesmaid.

They wore white taffeta gowns fashioned in like styles. The gowns were styled with sheer yokes which dropped slightly off-the-shoulders, edged in a double fold of taffeta in a bertha effect. From the panel of the waistlines, which formed a V in front, several folds of taffeta draped the hip lines, finishing in the back with flat bows. All wore above-the-elbow taffeta gauntlets.

The matron of honor's gown varied from those of the bridesmaids' by having a slight train. All the attendants wore little hairbraid bands in their hair. The bands were white, trimmed in yellow and green, in keeping with their front style bouquets. All the attendants wore rhinestone necklaces, gifts from the bride.

The matron of honor carried a crescent style bouquet of English ivy, yellow carnations and Talisman roses. The bridesmaids' bouquets also were crescent style arrangements of English ivy and yellow carnations.

Mrs. Mayer chose for her daughter's wedding a black crepe dress with a black nylon hat and pink accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses tied with pink ribbon.

Mrs. Solomon was attired in a black crepe dress with a black hat and blue accessories. She wore a corsage of white roses and light blue delphinium tied with blue ribbon.

The bridegrom chose as his best man, Ralph Arnholt, a friend of Loudonville. James McClure, Sam Maurey, John Hughes and Raymond McMullen jr., escorted guests to their pews.

A breakfast was held, immediately following the mass, for the bridal party and immediate family in the club room of the Mansfield-Leland hotel. Fifty were in attendance. A reception for 225 guests was held from 2 to 4 o'clock in the ballroom of the hotel. Palms, ferns and two beauty baskets of white gladiolus decorated the ballroom.

The first tier of the wedding cake was in the shape of a cross with a heart-shaped cake in the center of the cross on which was placed miniature figures of the bride and bridegroom. Narrow satin ribbons extended from the tiny figure of the bride to the foot of the cross, where it was attached to a miniature flower girl and ring-bearer.

Tall white tapers burned around the heart-shaped tier of the cake. Smilax and small white flowers outlined the entire cake and the table. Miss Dwain Garver and Miss Wanda Garn, friends of the bride, served. The guest book was presided over by Miss Stella Valentine.

The couple left in the late afternoon for a two weeks trip to Quebec, Canada. For traveling the bride chose a navy blue costume of crepe with a short jacket and white print bodice. Her accessories were navy blue. She wore a corsage of a white orchid.

Mr. and Mrs. Solomon will be at home to their friends at 124 North Jefferson street, Loudonville, after August 8. Mrs. Solomon is a graduate of St. Peter's high school and is past regent of the Daughters of Isabella.

Mr. Solomon is a graduate of Loudonville high school and Cleveland college of Mortuary Science. He is associated with the Banks' funeral home in Loudonville. Mrs. Solomon has been an employe of the Westinghouse Electric corporation.

Out-of-town guests were present for the wedding from New York, Moose Jaw, Canada; Kent, Loudonville, Ashland, Galion, Shelby, Norwalk, Cleveland, Medina, Columbus, Millersburg, Shawanne, Wooster, Deshler, Toledo, Butler, and Los Angeles, Calif.

G. D. Culler To Wed Zanesville Girl

MISS BARBARA JANE WOLFE

Mr. and Mrs. Warren H. Wolfe, 2901 Martin road, Zanesville, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Barbara Jane, to Gould Duane Culler, Osborn, Ohio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emery C. Culler, Lucas. The formal open church ceremony will take place Sunday, September 11, in St. John's Lutheran church, Zanesville.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Lash high school, Zanesville, and Wittenberg college. At the latter she was a member of Alpha Xi Delta, national social sorority, serving as treasurer of Zeta chapter for two years. During her senior year she was president of the Wittenberg chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalism honorary fraternity. Miss Wolfe was employed for the past four years as Wittenberg correspondent and part - time reporter for The Springfield News-Sun.

Mr. Culler, also a graduate of Wittenberg college, is an alumnus of Lucas high school. At the college he served as president of Mu Delta chapter of Phi Mu Delta fraternity and was active in the Wittenberg choir and the student council. At present he is president of the Mu Delta alumni organization. Mr. Culler is employed as assistant manager of Central Loan incorporated, Osborn.

CLUB ENTERTAINED

Mrs. O. O. Orewiler, Burnison road, entertained ten members of the Happi-Tyme club recently with a picnic at North Lake park. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Jeanette Mentzer, Mrs. Nettie Mentzer and Mrs. Glenn Hartman. The next meeting will be held August 18 at the home of Mrs. Goerge Smith, West Fourth street road.

Shower Fetes Miss Siegfried

Miss Elaine Siegfried, bride-elect of Weldon Lemon, was honored at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. William Ross, 123 Arthur avenue. Twelve were in attendance.

During the evening games were the diversion with prizes being presented to the winners. A bride's book was made and presented to the honoree.

At the close of the affair refreshments were served from tables with yellow appointments. Attached to yellow streamers were miniature umbrellas. The centerpiece of yellow gladioli was flanked by burning yellow tapers.

Miss Siegfried and Mr. Lemon will exchange nuptial vows July 23 in the First Lutheran church at 2:30 o'clock.

Mansfield Soap Box Derby Slated Saturday

Indians Slice Yank Lead With 7-3 Win

50 'Kids' Set for Big Race

The eighth running of the Mansfield edition of the "greatest amateur racing event in the world" will be staged Saturday at 1:30 p. m. at the new Derby Downs.

Some 50 Mansfield and area youngsters are at work completing their clever and unique coaster racers for the 1000-foot run in the Soap Box Derby an event that taxes the construction ingenuity and driving skill of youngsters 11 to 15 years of age. Fifty-seven youths have signed for participation but Co-Directors Bob Moore and Don Cram feel that perhaps 10 of the competitors will drop out for mechanical reasons.

Derby Downs this year is located one mile west of Mansfield on Route 30-N. The new racing strip was picked to give spectators a better view of the proceedings. A bank on each side of the track makes a synthetic bleacher for the fans.

Once again the young coaster pilots will be vying for an imposing array of prizes which value approximately $1,000. The top award is the four-day, all-expenses-paid trip to the national finals in Akron Aug. 14. This prize goes to the Mansfield champion.

And all of the Mansfield contestants will get a chance to view their conqueror in the national finals. The Brandenburg Chevrolet company will take all the youngsters to Akron for the All-American Derby. Included in the trip will be a dinner at the famous Smithville Inn. In addition there will be bicycles, baseball

Bearden Wins 1st In Month

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Gene Bearden, the Cleveland Indians' top rookie last year, won his first victory since June 15 yesterday, defeating the Philadelphia Athletics, 7 to 3.

But he won it as a relief pitcher and had to be relieved himself in the sevenh. Satchel Paige took over for him with two outs and the bases loaded and cooly fanned Hank Majeski.

Then Satchel went to work, finishing the game by retiring the next six men. In the eighth, he fanned Don White and forced Pete Suder and Mike Guerra to fly to the outfield. Again in the ninth, Buddy Rosar flied out, Eddie Joost was out on an infield popper and Elmer Valo grounded out to Joe Gordon.

The Athletics knocked starting pitcher Steve Gromek out of the box in the second inning and scored all their three runs.

But in the fourth, Larry Doby singled through the box and Gordon walked. Lou Boudreau's single scored Doby. Then Jim Hegan hit his fourth home run of the season into the left field stands, scoring Gordon and Boudreau ahead of him to put the Tribe in front.

GET TWO HITS

The A's got only two hits off Bearden in 4 2-3 innings but they were given five walks. The losing pitcher was Lou Brissie.

The contest was witnessed by a ladies' day crowd of 45,816. Of those, 25,610 paid.

Philadelphia, behind the seemingly effortless hurling of Brissie, jumped to the early three-run lead and were coasting along when the roof fell in.

Sam Chapman opened the visitors' second inning with a single to left. Majeski walked, but Mitchell made a fine catch of Moses' drive while running straight away from the infield.

Youthful Nelson Fox then crashed one of Gromek's fast ones over Mitchell's head for a double scoring both runners. Fox scored the third run on a single by Brissie.

The Athletics gave plenty of trouble in the fifth, sixth and seventh innings against Bearden, but couldn't cash in on their opportunities.

Bearden opened the fifth by walking the first two Athletic hitters. A neat play behind second by Ray Boone on Ferris Fain's grounder started a double play, however, and broke the rally's back.

STOPS WILDNESS

Chapman opened the sixth with a double, but Boone and Boudreau tossed out the next three men on grounders. Another wild streak in the seventh resulted in two more passes, which sandwiched around a single, loaded the bases. Then Paige came to the rescue.

The victory cut the New York Yankee's lead to 5½ games and gave the Tribe a 2½ game lead over the Mackmen. The Yankees lost to St Louis.

Best-Ball Tourney Listed Today on 2 Local Courses

The Mansfield Athletic Commission's first golf tournament—an Amateur-Amateur best-ball—will be held today on the Possum Run and Coolridge courses.

The prize list for which the 134-man field will try was announced last night by the tournament committee. The winning team in each class is to get $15 in merchandise with the runners-up coming in for a $10 prize. An additional $5 merchandise certificate will go to the medalist in each division, bringing the prize list to $120. Additional money from entry fees was reserved to promote later tournaments.

Classes AA and A are to play at Coolridge today with the B's and C's touring Possum Run. The first foursome will leave the tee at 10 a. m. at both courses with all to be underway shortly before noon.

Four golfers who played in the Ohio Amateur tournament last week will be in the AA field. Semi-finalist Al Hager is to team with Pete Zeides while Quarter-finalist Pete Thoma is paired with his Coolridge buddy, Jim Musille. Owen Hegarty and Bob Carpenter of Westbrook are also entered.

Eighteen holes will be played.

Solidarity Surprises In Rich Gold Cup

By BOB MYERS

ARCADIA, Calif.—(AP)—Solidarity, a 12-to-1 California-bred colt, put the big name horses to shame yesterday when he rolled in to win the $100,000 Hollywood gold cup handicap.

Billed as the world's richest horse race, with its net purse of $100,000 to the winner, the golden upset was staged before a sweltering throng of 40,535. Solidarity soundly whipped 10 rivals in this 10th renewal of the western turf fixture.

Further confusing the experts, the strapping bay colt whipped across the line with peppery Ralph Neves aboard to tie the track record at Santa Anita park set by the mighty Seabiscuit when he won the Santa Anita hundred grander in 1940.

The time for the mile and one quarter was 2 minutes 1 1/5 seconds.

Second, a length and a quarter back, was the Maine Chance farm's pace setting Ace Admiral. The Argentine horse, Pretal rushed in for a surprise third.

Trailing, in undignified procession behind, were Dinner Gong, Honeymoon, On Trust, Double Jay, Vulcan's Forge, Miss Grillo, and longshots Amble In and Roman In.

Little Court Hot Shot Casts Lot At West Virginia

MARTINS FERRY—(AP)—West Virginia University is going to get one of Ohio's star high school basketball players.

He is Ken Alessi, outstanding scorer at Yorkville, Ohio, high school last season.

Alessi said yesterday he chose West Virginia university over 45 other colleges.

Alessi averaged 38 points per game in his senior year with Yorkville, scoring 1,168 points in 31 games. In a single game with Shadyside, O., he scored 70 points.

The star is a fellow townsman of Kiki Konstantinis, West Virginna university freshman tackle, and a close friend of Eddie Sterling, Mountaineer basketball stalwart from Martins Ferry.

Alessi's five feet seven inches is short by current cage standards, but he has concentrated on ball handling and shooting. He weighs 165 pounds.

Sets New Record

AKRON—(AP)—License, chipper son of Khorasan, clipped two full seconds off the Ascot park two-mile record yesterday to take the $7,500 Ascot Gold Cup race in a breeze.

Evans Makes First Crown a Prize One; Youngster Gets a Big Hug From 'Mom'

By CHARLEY STINE

An 18-year old boy who had never before won a tournament of any kind is Ohio's new amateur golfing champion.

Dick Evans, who yesterday defeated Youngstown Public Linkster Vince Leskosky for the title, is not even champion at his home Canterbury Country club course. He came close to that one last year but lost to Tom Whiteway in the finals.

"I haven't really won anything since high school," Evans said following his triumph yesterday. "This just doesn't seem possible."

The six-foot, four-inch beanpole had worn a grim look on his face all through the tournament but there was a smile there that wouldn't come off when the event was over.

When he reached the clubhouse following the match, his first reward was a big hug from his mother. Dick's parents had driven to Mansfield yesterday but did not watch the matches. They were afraid it would make him nervous.

Asked about his toughest opponent, Dick decided on 1948 champion Harold Paddock, whom he beat in 22 holes.

"I didn't think I had a chance against Mr. Mann (Lt. Jack Mann of Toledo) but that match wasn't too hard. Mr. Paddock thought I could beat if I played good, but once the match was on I was really scared."

Evans, who calls everybody Mister, spoke highly of Mansfield's Pete Thoma and Al Hager whom he beat Friday. He said that he wasn't so worried in the Thoma match because "by that time I was used to being behind."

Aboue Leskosky, who was his sixth victim, the champ had only the best word. "He loosened up and made a great comeback," he said, "but I did get careless and go for a couple birds when I should have played safe."

One of the first things Evans did when he reached the clubhouse was to introduce Leskosky to his mother.

The gallery, which reached around 500 as the match wore on, was strictly non-partisan since the Mansfielders were all out. It did, naturally enough however, favor Leskosky after he fell seven holes down with 13 to play. His next four victories were roundly cheered.

Among the crowd was the two Mansfield men beaten yesterday —Pete Thomas and Al Hager. Thoma came up with the prize remark when Evans missed a foot-and-a-half putt on 11 for his third straight bogey.

"Now he's putting my speed," said the likable Pete, who proved Thursday afternoon that he is one of the best eight amateur golfers in the state.

★

Evans name will be inscribed on the huge rotating Governor's cup along with such famous persons as Maurice McCarthy, Bobby Servis, Frank Stranahan, and Denny Shute . . . And he did it by eliminating the largest field ever to play in the event. The 183 entrants were some 20 above the preceding record . . . Despite the large and fine field, Al Hager's course record of 65 was never even threatened . . . Several 69's were the lowest scores recorded . . . Evans was three over par after 33 holes yesterday to win the title, while Leskosky, the loser, had played 35 holes Friday in figures of five under . . . Evans was, however, the most consistant player of the tournament . . . He had 72 Monday, a 72 Friday against Thoma and a 72 over the morning round yesterday . . . His worst round was a 79 Tuesday.

★

The story which had been circulating all week as to whether or not Leskosky was going to lose his job was settled just after the tournament was over.

Vince received a telegram from the president of his union. "Don't worry about that job. Bring home the championship."

The Youngstown Public Linkster is an apprentice lineman and had taken only two days off because he didn't expect to qualify.

Richland County Baseball Loop Opens Second Round

Second round of competition in the Richland County Amateur Baseball league opens with two games today.

Lucas plays the Mansfield Hawks at Tillman's park at 2:30 p. m. and Ontario goes to Lexington at 1:30 p. m. The Hawks clinched a first-round tie with four wins and one defeat with Lucas holding second place with a 4-2 record. In the first round, the Hawks defeated Lucas, 7 to 5, and Lexington defeated Ontario, 12 to 2.

Two postponed games remain of the first round schedule. The Hawks must play Lexington while Mansfield T. & E. Tavern has a home game against Butler, which is tied with Lexington for third place.

The Taverns play a non-league encounter against the Loudonville Flxible Clippers at Loudonville.

Outfielder Jerry Novacic has built his Tavern batting average up to a fine .429 with 15 hits in 35 strolls to the plate. Rich Snavely is second with 17 hits in 47 tries for a .362 average.

Other marks: Joe Miller, .333; Joe Atton, .329; Jay Bardon, .311; Ernie Tinkey, .294; Cliff Webb, .279; Joe Siwek, 222; Dave Miller, .176; Trent Snavely, .152; Mike Watchorn, .142, and Al Boyer, .125.

TAVERNS WIN 9TH

The Taverns won their ninth victory in 15 games yesterday by defeating the Ohio State Reformatory all-stars, 8 to 3, on the OSR field.

Mike Watchorn went the route for T & E., giving up seven hits and striking out 10. Cliff Webb clouted a home run in the fifth inning to tie the score at 2-2. The Taverns clinched the game with one run in the sixth and two in the seventh.

Joe Siwek made a fine running one-hand stab of a fly in short center in the ninth with two men on and one run in to put the skids on a possible rally.

It was the third win against three losses for Watchorn.

Unknown Is Easy Golf Meet Victor

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— An unknown San Francisco youngster, who never before had reached the finals of any tournament, won the National Public Links golf championship yesterday.

By a score of 5 and 3, 20-year-old Ken Towns of the Crystal Springs course of Burlingame, San Francisco suburb, clearly outclassed William C. Betger, 26, also of San Francisco, in a scheduled 36-hole playoff.

Wisconsin Boy Wins Futurity

CHICAGO — (AP) — A brown streak named Wisconsin Boy sizzled to a surprising seven and one-half length victory yesterday in the $74,975 Arlington Futurity at Arlington park.

The two-year-old son of the famed speedster, Teddy's Comet, startled a crowd of 27,470 fans.

W. M. Peavey, a paper mill owner of Ladysmith, Wis., purchased Wisconsin Boy as a yearling for $6,200. Peavy pocketed a check for $60,075 for Wisconsin Boy's run-away triumph.

The crowd established Calumet farm's Re-Armed, a full brother of the famed Armed, a 3 to 1 favorite in the field of sixteen juveniles. He finished twelfth.

Russell A. Firestone's The Diver nosed out King Ranch's Middleground for second money.

Managers to Meet

Managers of the National teams of the Hot Stove league junior baseball program will meet Tuesday at 8:30 p. m. at the Recreation department offices at 14½ West Fourth street.

Softball Entry List Is Open

Entry list for the 1949 girls' and men's district softball tournament is now open. Deadline for getting into the seven-country tournament is July 27 at 4 p. m.

Teams may secure entry blanks by writing Stan Kamen, district softball commissioner, 14½ West Fourth street. Entry fee for the tourney is $12.50.

Tournament competition will begin Aug. 1 and extend until Aug. 19 on the Gorman-Rupp field. The girls' meet will be completed first. Teams from Richland, Ashland, Crawford, Marion, Morrow, Wyandot and Knox counties are eligible for the joust which will be staged on the Gorman-Rupp field.

Mansfield Gorman-Rupp is the defending champion.

Play at Prospect

D. & M. Cigar Store will meet the Disabled American Veterans in an exhibition softball game today at 2 p. m. at Prospect park. Manager Bobby Santoro of the Cigars will start either Willie Fowler or Don Gross against DAV with A. C. Jenkins behind the platter.

Penn Auto 9 Plays Shelby Blues Today

Penn Auto-Sporting Goods, state semi-pro baseball champion, will try to get back on the victory wagon this afternoon against the rugged Shelby Blues on the Shelby high school diamond at 3 o'clock.

Just Friday night, Shelby took over the Autos, 10 to 9, after going ahead nine runs in the early stages. Shelby has won 16 of 17 games for the best record among area amateur or semi-pro clubs. Penn has now won nine and lost seven.

Manager Ray "Lefty" Deeds will send Little Lou Gregorio against the Blues this afternoon. Gregorio has won two of five decisions for the Autos after an outstanding career in high school and American Legion junior ball. Last Sunday, he went four innings against the Creston Pirates and did not allow a run. However, Lou developed a sore arm and had to be replaced by Jack Hammett.

Bob Finney, a fine left-handed swatter, has rejoined the Autos after a sojourn with the Kokomo Klowns, a travelling pro team. Finney was one of the Autos better hitters in early season games.

He played against Shelby and had one double in four trips. Finney will be in the cleanup spot again today.

Penn won two of three games last week.

N-J Golf Loop In Close Race

The ten teams in the fast News-Journal A golf league will play the third set of second round matches Tuesday evening over the Possum Run links.

Four teams are within four points of first place Ideal Billiards. Ideal leads the circuit with 46½ points while Penn Auto-Sporting Goods has 45½, Blue Goose Tavern, 45; Lee's Lunch, 43½ and Komito's Clothes, 42½. Blue Goose had topped the league after the first week of play.

Gibson Studebaker, the first round winner, is down in ninth place with 35 points. Other totals are: Hall's Shamrock Market, 39; Myers Supply, 38½; PD's Bar, 36½ and Drive-In-Ette, 28½.

FINISHING TOUCHES—Two young contestants in the eighth News-Journal Soap Box Derby are putting the finishing touches to their coaster racers. The Mansfield Derby will be staged Saturday one-mile west of town on Route 30-N. Some 50 young drivers will pilot their coasters over the new Derby Downs course beginning at 1:30 p. m. Left, Vaughn Gustin, 12, 450 West Fourth street climbs aboard his racer to test the flexibility of his steering gear. Right, Robert Stone, 12, 506 North Mulberry street tacks the cardboard siding on his coaster. Both youngsters will compete in the Class B division. Stone was eliminated in the first heat last year by Bob Wolf of Mansfield while Gustin did not compete.

Little About Lou And Some Notes Off Sweaty Cuff

By Fred Tharp
(News-Journal Sports Editor)

A LITTLE FELLOW with a strong right arm may be Mansfield's next addition to the professional baseball ranks. . . . That would be Lou Gregorio who skyrocketed to prominence by pitching two consecutive no-hit games for the Senior high school team of 1948. . . . That feat plus a 14-wins-and-two-losses record for the crack American Legion junior team won Gregorio the ratng as Mansfield's outstanding athlete of 1948. . . . Add a batting eye which has put Lou near the top of the averages with every team he has played with and pro ball shouldn't go wrong. . . . Lou's chance comes from a baseball school he attended for three days last week in Youngstown. . . . The school was put on by the Philadelphia Athletics and Lou was easily one of the stars. . . Eddie Morgan, manager of the Youngstown club in the Mid-Atlantic loop, admitted he would like to have Gregorio as a member of his hill staff. . . . Youngstown leads the Class C circuit. . . . Gregorio's over-all pitching record for three years of high school, two of Legion ball and a part season with the Penn Auto semi-pro club shows 47 victories and 10 defeats. . . . Five of the defeats have cropped up this year. . . . His best year was in 1948 when he won 19 of 22 decisions. . . . All the losses were by 4-to-3 scores, one in the Legion state finals, one in the high school regional meet and another to Ashland high. . . . In those 22 games, Lou fanned 259 and walked only eight. . . . One of his 1949 losses was a one-hitter at Marion. . . . Lou's dad started him throwing when he was six years old. . . . However, Lou almost became a trackman. . . . He was a pole vaulter and sprinter part time until this season. . . . Then Harry Mehock, the track coach, insisted he stick with baseball. . . . Philadelphia officials are looking over their farm clubs and will let Lou know in about a week where he will be sent for the remainder of this season.

JUST NOTES OFF A SWEAT STAINED CUFF: You may not have noticed but a former Mansfield Braves pitcher, one of the two in the majors, is doing alright these days with the Chicago White Sox. . . . This one is Bob Kuzava, the southpaw who had a couple of trials with the Indians. . . . The White Sox are mired in the second division but Kuzava has won five and lost one. . . His fifth victory yesterday was a work of art. . . . Bob elbowed the Sox to a 5-to-1 victory over Washington and permitted only six hits. . . . He had a shutout for six innings. . Bob walked four and fanned two. . . . The other former Mansfield pro baseballer in the big-time is Cteve Gromek, the Cleveland . . . He was a shortstop for the Braves.

CHUCK WATTS, a teammate of Lou Gregorio's on the 1948-49 Senior high baseball teams, is now playing shortstop for Ballinger, Tex. in the Class D Longhorn league . . . Incidentally Ballinger was the scene of a unique comeback story last year. . . . George Milstead, a 25-year veteran in pro baseball, retired and opened a filling station in his home town . . . The day after his application for retirement was accepted Ballinger made him an offer and George went back into business . . . But early this year he transferred to the East Texas league so he could be near home . . . The first five weeks with Henderson he won five and lost one as pitcher-manager . . . Not bad for a fellow who started in pro ball in 1921 . . . George, a crafty lefty, laid off pro ball for four years during the war and pitched against a lot of service teams. . . . One of the service teams he knocked off was an outfit managed by the Stuffer . . . George once tossed 'em up for the Chicago Cubs and admits to 16 to 19 wins in a row at various stages in the American Association and International leagues . . . As late as 1941, George won 20 and lost three in the Western league.

THE ILLINI used to go all out in awarding prizes to its early track stars . . Some of the first awards were a mustache cup, a bath ticket, McCauley's History of England, a bottle of cologne and a group picture of the faculty . . . The picture of the prof's probably made a big hit with the athletes . . . Raymond Bates and Jack Roseboro won Ashland (O) booster club trophies as the most valuable A's in track and baseball last spring . . . The Cleveland Indians have been averaging 33,000 fans at ball games this spring . . . Cleveland Class A school have won 19 of 42 state track titles and two Forest Hill schools tied for a 20th.

equipment, fishing rods and reels, traveling kits, radios, wrist watches, etc., for the youngsters.

FIFTY RACES

Fans will see approximately 50 races next Saturday. Two cars will be raced in each heat and will get an added speed boost at the start as a specially constructed ramp will launch the cars.

A parade of all drivers down the Derby racing strip will officially open the Soap Box event Saturday at 1 p. m.

The race this year will take on a different aspect. Officials of the national race decided that top-heavy use of power tools in construction of the racing car was taking the event away from the "soap box" idea. So this year youngsters have been required to use hand tools exclusively in building the cars.

Mansfield fans may get a look at the construction ability of the youngsters when all of the cars go on display Thursday and Friday from noon until 8 p. m. at the U. S. Naval Training Center on Ashland road.

The cars must be checked in at the Navy "armory" between 9 a. m. and noon Thursday. V. H. Oberlander and his crew of experts will begin inspection of the cars at 1 p. m. Thursday. Steering apparatus and brakes will be tested so that all cars are mechanically safe before they go on the Derby course.

Officials will judge the cars for best construction and best upholstery prizes Thursday and Friday.

DAY OF ACTION

A full day of action awaits the youngsters Saturday. Their cars will be transported to the racing strip by the Mansfield Transfer company beginning at 9 a. m. At 11 a. m. officials will report at the track and drivers will report at Brandenburg's.

Drivers will be transported to the track in a fleet of Chevrolets.

The race itself will not end things for the youngsters. A parade through downtown Mansfield will follow the races and the drivers will be feted at 6 o'clock at the YMCA at a picnic-style dinner. The award party at the Madison theater is scheduled for 8 p. m.

W. A. Brandenburg will be host to all Derby officials at a dinner Friday at noon at the Elks club.

Returns to Action

The Mansfield American Legion junior baseball team returns to action Wednesday at 5 p. m. against the Galion juniors at Galion's Heise park.

3 Important Tilts Listed This Week

The re-play games are most important for Ideal Electric, Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion.

Ideal can tie for the top spot in the National league by topping second - division Lumbermens Thursday night at North Lake park. Ideal has won three and lost two while three other National combines have copped four of six decisions.

VFW holds a half-game margin over Liederkranz in the fast American league. However, the Veterans must get over a re-vitalized Farm Tools outfit Monday night at Prospect park. VFW has won four and lost one while Liederkranz has four wins and two defeats. The Toolmen last week knocked off Liederkranz for their first victory of the season. Since then Farm Tools has managed to tie for first in the second round of American play.

A victory for American Legion over Tom's Restaurant Tuesday at Johns park will clinch the first round title for the Legionaires in the International league.

The Legion nine is one of four teams still unbeaten in league play. The other three — Ohio Sport Center, Lumbermens and Westinghouse are all in the Girls' league. But the list will be cut sharply this week as Sport Center meets Westinghouse Monday at Liberty park and Lumbermens plays Sport Center at North Lake Wednesday.

Cooper Slams 2 Homers To Help Cincy Win, 7 to 6

BROOKLYN —(AP)— Walker Cooper slammed two home runs yesterday, his second coming with a man on base in the top of the 10th innings to enable the Cincinnati Reds to defeat the Brooklyn Dodgers, 7-6.

The Dodgers made a determined rally in their half of the 10th. Jackie Robinson opened with his 10th homer, off Ed Erautt. Gil Hodges was safe on Red Stallcup's fumble, but was forced by Carl Furillo. Billy Cox lined out and Roy Campanella walked.

Pinch-hitter Marv Rackley then hit a single on which Bobby Adams made a sprawling dive and stop behind second, preventing the tying run from going over. With the bases loaded, Peewee Reese flied out to end the game.

It was the first Cincinnati triumph in Ebbets Field this season in nine tries.

The Reds won in an uphill battle. They scored three runs in the eighth, chiefly on Stallcup's single with the bases loaded, to tie the score against Preacher Roe. After singles by Hodges and Cox and a long fly by Campanella put the Dodgers ahead again in their half, the Reds tied it up with two away in the ninth.

Pinch-hitter Jimmy Bloodworth doubled to left center and another double to left by Harry Walker squared the count at 5-5 and finished Roe, who was going for his eighth straight.

Rex Barney put out the fire. But in the 10th Grady Hatton opened with a single and Cooper blasted No. 14 into the upper left field deck.

The Dodgers pulled a triple steal in the second inning with Robinson scoring on the play. Hodges moved from second to third and Cox went from first to second. Wehmeier was on the mound.

Speedy Mare Wins Butler By Lower Lip

NEW YORK — (AP) — Conniver, champion race mare of last season, finally returned to her 1948 form yesterday to defeat Palestinian by the margin of a pouting lower lip in the Butler handicap at Jamaica.

The five-year-old Maryland-bred daughter of Discovery blazed down the stretch to nail Palestinian just as they flashed under the wire.

The finish was so close the judges had to take a long look at the photo before posting the winner. Three lengths further away, Stunis, owned by G. H. (Pete) Bostwick, took third money, a length in front of Mrs. Deering Howe's Donor. The Butler was won by Donor last year.

Forgetting Conniver's 1948 record, the crowd of 30,631 let her get away at better than 16 to 1. Her time for the mile and three sixteenths was 1:57 1/5.

Elyria and Galion Win Junior Tilts

BELLEVUE — The Elyria and Galion teams yesterday won games in the district American Legion junior baseball tourney here.

Galion defeated Lorain, 6 to 4, behind the pitching of Bill Enders while Elyria handed Loudonville its first defeat of the season, 12 to 4. Today, Galion meets Elyria at 1 p. m. and Loudonville goes against Lorain at 3:30 p. m. Elyria is the only team unbeaten in the double-elimination meet.

Flashy Don Eagle Wins Wrestling Bout From Bozic

Don Eagle, popular Indian wrestler, won the feature match at last night's wrestling card in the Ashland road armory over Rough Fred Bozic of Cleveland.

Bozic roughed up Eagle in the opening fall and won in 21 minutes while Eagle evened the match five minutes later with his patented Indian death lock. Eagle took the finale in 10 minutes with a punch to the neck as Bozic came off the ropes.

Viola Viann won the semi-final engagement in straight falls over Cecilia Blevins in a fast match. Viola won the opening fall in 13 minutes and took the second in 21.

Frankie Talaber wrestled to a 30-minute draw in the opener against the Great Mephisto.

Young Contestant Wins Derby Race

BALTIMORE —(AP)— Darryl C. Ruppert, an 11-year-old speedster who carried a pair of baby doll shoes for good luck, yesterday won the sunpapers first annual soap box derby.

Police Inspector Bernard J. Schmidt estimated 30,000 persons lined the course, laid out on an East Baltimore street, to watch the event.

With the victory, Darryl won the right to represent Baltimore in the national finals of the All-American soap box derby in Akron, Ohio.

Lakewood Wins

Lakewood defeated Mansfield Gorman-Rupp, 3 to 0, in a Major softball league game last night at the G-R field. Wally Gerber blanked the Pumpers while Bobby Regula appeared on the mound for Mansfield. Gorman-Rupp has won four and lost five in league play.

2 League Leaders Lose Saturday Tilts

NEW YORK — (AP) — The National league leading Brooklyn Dodgers and the American league pace-setting New York Yankees both lost yesterday but only the Yankees lost ground.

Brooklyn dropped a 7-6 decision to the Cincinnati Reds, but retained its game and a half advantage over the runner-up Cardinals when the Philadelphia Phillies defeated St. Louis, 4-2.

In losing, 4-2, to the St. Louis Browns, the Yankees saw their lead over Cleveland shrink to five and a half games as the Indians overcame the Philadelphia Athletics, 7-3.

The Boston Red Sox also gained a full game on the Yankees, trouncing the Detroit Tigers, 11-1, to advance to within a half game of the third place Athletics. The Bosox trail the Yankees by eight and a half games.

Chicago's White Sox moved to within a game and a half of seventh place Washington by whipping the Senators, 5-1. The Boston Braves retained their hold on third place in the National league, walloping the Chicago Cubs, 9-1.

Pittsburgh swept both ends of a doubleheader from the New York Giants, 9-0, and 7-6. The second game went 11 innings.

Walker Cooper's second homer of the game sunk the Dodgers. It came in the top of the 10th with one mate aboard. The Dodgers got one back in their half of the 10th when Jackie Robinson smashed his 10th homer, but a great stop by second baseman Bobby Adams prevented the Dodgers from tying the score.

WAS BIG GUN

Willie Jones was the big gun in the Phils' triumph over the Cards. He got three of the Phils' seven hits off Harry Brecheen, hit a home run and scored two runs. Hank Borowy notched his eighth victory, but was forced to retire in the ninth after giving up two runs. He developed a blister on his pitching hand.

In a game that was limited to five and a half innings because of a heavy rain, the Browns finally beat the Yankees getting all their runs in the first inning. Roy Sievers batted in two with a bases loaded single. Errors by outfielder Johnny Lindell and shortstop Phil Rizzuto helped St. Louis tally the others. Joe Ostrowski allowed five hits in gaining his fourth victory for the tailenders. Tommy Byrne was the loser.

Mel Parnell had an easy time winning his 12th game for the Red Sox. He spaced four hits while his mates got 13 off three Bengal hurlers. Ted Williams, Bobby Doerr, Al Zarilla and Birdie Tebbetts cracked homers for the winners. Virgil Trucks was the loser.

Second baseman Cass Michaels batted in four runs with a double and single to lead the White Sox to their victory over the Senators. Bob Kuzava pitched a six-hitter for his fifth victory. Rae Scarborough was the loser.

The Braves combined a 14-hit attack and a neat six-hit effort by Long John Sain to gain their win over the Cubs. Pete Reiser batted in three runs with a single and triple, and first baseman Elbie Fletcher hit a home run for the winners. It was the seventh win for Sain, who has lost nine this year. Bob Chipman was the loser.

The Pirates belted seven homers off Giant pitching, six of them coming in the first game. Wally Westlake, who added another in the second game, smashed two in the opener.

Pitcher Vic Lombardi, acting in the role of pinchhitter, dropped a looping single in short right, to score Stan Rojek from third with the winning run in the 11th inning of the nightcap. The Giants had forced the game into overtime, overcoming a 6-0 deficit with two runs in the seventh and four in the eighth.

Sammy Snead Has Big Lead

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — It was Sammy Snead again yesterday in the Dapper Dan open golf tournament.

The long-driving National PGA champion from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., fired his third successive round under 70—a 69 after a pair of 67's—to reach the 54-hole turn with a total of 203.

That figure was 13 strokes under par and five strokes better than the total posted by Sammy's nearest rival, Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago.

Bob Hamilton of Landover, Md., came in with a 68 for 209.

Ohio hunters got the bird this past week. That is, they now control the destiny of the quail through the State Conservation commission. What use they will make of their powers remains to be seen.

The quail bill, saved from almost certain death by Lt. Gov. George Nye, skipped merrily through the Ohio Senate last Tuesday, and was forwarded to Gov. Frank J. Lausche for final action.

The bill, one of the most bitterly contested in the history of Ohio conservation, removes the quail from the protected list of song birds and makes it a game bird. For the next ten years, it is to be protected and will be propagated by the conservation officials.

I'm wholeheartedly in favor of having more quail and I believe few persons get more of a thrill from quail hunting than I do. At the same time, I have enough common sense to realize putting a little extra food in the field (a big argument used by those favoring the bill since the poor quail can't find enough to eat) is a bunch of hooey.

The quail doesn't need more food. He finds an ample supply wherever he finds cover enough to live. And right there is the answer to the whole problem of raising more quail in Ohio. If the State Conservation commission, now that it has the power, will go ahead with an extensive program of providing adequate cover and at the same time retain tight controls over predators, we can have quail.

My own argument against the bill, as most of you by now can recite by heart, is that I don't believe hunters are going to want to wait ten years for the privilege of shooting quail. A certain few are going to push for an early open season.

One so - called sportsman even had the guts to tell me this past week that he'd "shoot hell out of every flock of quail" which flies up in front of him now. "They're game birds," he declared. My own comment was unprintable.

Along the lines of what the state is doing in the outdoors field, Ohio officials have announced their intentions of recovering the cash value of fish killed throughout the state by pollution of streams. The villages of Troy and Whitehouse along with the city of Toledo and the Baltimore and Ohio railroad are being asked to pay for the loss of fish, minnows and other aquatic life killed as a result of pollution.

The wholesale rate at which the state will attempt to collect for these fish is $6 per thousand. I'd hate to think what a sportsman would have to pay for a thousand fish when he's soaked $35 or $40 for having one or two over the limit!

If these firms had to pay a reasonable rate for the fish killed through their carelessness or "don't give a damness", pollution would be a rarity instead of the usual thing.

The cause of the fish kills, according to Tom Gallagher, head of the stream pollution control section of the state Conservation commission, is that pollution removes needed oxygen from the water.

A lighter note of the week was the announcement that a "black panther" has been sighted near Hamilton. Residents of the Fairfield township area claim to have seen the animal, and say it's about four feet long and has black fur.

The report has been the cause of numerous chuckles this week, but I'm wondering if the creature doesn't exist. I don't think it's a panther, but it could be a dark lynx or wildcat.

Remember all these dogs which have been slashed up on coon hunts this past year? One in particular was almost disemboweled, a typical cat trick. Think about that one before you toss the story off as fiction.

★

Fishing for the past week — well, there was a lot of time spent at it but very little gained. About the only thing hitting was the catfish population. Numerous good catches of cats and carp were reported but little else.

Although Charles Mill dam and Pleasant Hill were reported among the better fishing spots, few decent catches came from either.

Taking advantage of the slack period was Kenny Wassem, concessionaire at Charles Mill, who wandered off to Trent river, Ontario, to spend a week — fishing!

★

Those who are worried about the future of Lake Erie as a fishing spot can take a little heart. A Senate committee in the Ohio legislature has voted an OK on a $100,000 appropriation to pay for a study of pollution along the lake's shores. The money will be used by the new department of natural resources which will take over all conservation work on August 11.

Robber Makes $1,000 Haul

CINCINNATI — (AP) — A man who identified himself as Lee S. Fieber, 47, Miami, Fla. restaurant supervisor, told police he was beaten and robbed in his downtown hotel room here Fri. night by a man he admitted as a job seeker.

Fieber reported his assailant left him only three dirty shirts, a pair of shoes and a brief case. He estimated his loss totaled $1,000 — including four suits, two pieces of luggage, another brief case, a $200 wrist watch, $33 in cash and a check for $144.99.

"I don't have a penny," Fieber told a reporter. "I even had to sign for the tip for my breakfast."

Residents Have Fishing Lake In Own Back Yards

Many outdoors magazines carry ads claiming that if a fisherman goes to some portion of Canada he can fish from his back porch. This claim is usually greeted with dazed looks as some poor reader imagines what this must be like, but one group of Mansfielders just shrug it off.

These are the members of the Spring Lake Fishing club, newly incorporated organization at the Spring Lake allotment, Ashland road. Each person owning a lot there has automatic membership in the club, and no outsiders are admitted. At the rear of the allotment is a fair-sized, spring-fed lake, teeming with bluegills and crappies and even containing some rainbow trout.

Sam Johnson, owner of the allotment, has agreed to deed the lake and enough land to cover a five-acre plot to the club. The members plan to enlarge the lake by digging out the west end, and plan to build a recreational area in the land area bounding the water.

The lake, fed by five springs, is cool enough that swimming is a chilly proposition unless the day is exceedingly hot. Due to the water's temperature, trout have been stocked and, with the exception of some which were seined out, have thrived in its depths.

Panfish can be seen lying in the clear water and among the weed beds while jumbo bullfrogs, placed there by Johnson, line the banks.

The water is clean and a constant overflow of ten inches carries away the surface trash and excess flow from the springs. Water vegetation is plentiful along two banks, and here the fish congregate. About all that is needed to build it into one of the best fishing lakes in this part of the country is the addition of bass to kill down part of the bluegills.

With a little community effort, already pledged by residents and prospective residents of the allotment, Spring Lake should soon be the answer to a fisherman's prayer.

Problem Develops In Great Lakes

Sea Lampreys Threaten Fish

SAUGATUCK, Mich. —Trout fishing in Lake Michigan apparently has collapsed and in absence of other evidence, the sea lamprey is being pointed out as the villain.

Having killed off its favorite food in the lake, the voracious lamprey is turning his vampire appitite to other fish. Trout are a preferred food, probably because the trout's tender belly and small scales offer less resistance to the rasp of the lamprey.

As the large trout were killed off, the lampreys attacked the little fellows and commercial fisherman plying from this port and other western Michigan ports say it is rare to catch a trout now-a-days and rarer still to catch one that isn't marked with the tell-tale sore from lamprey attacks.

There are those who say the commercial fishermen must accept part of the blame for fish killing. They point out that improved nets and mechanical fishing is at least partly responsible for the death of an industry. However, these are in the minority.

So serious is the problem viewed that Congress is taking a hand in the case of the disappearing fish. Rep. Charles E. Potter (R) Michigan, has succeeded in gaining authority for the United States Fish and Wildlife Service to "control" the lampreys in the Great Lakes.

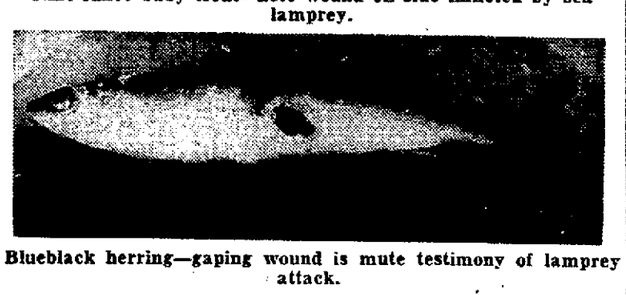
* * *

"The sea lamprey has virtually ruined the lake trout fishing in Lakes Huron and Michigan, and is now being evidenced in Lake Superior," Potter said.

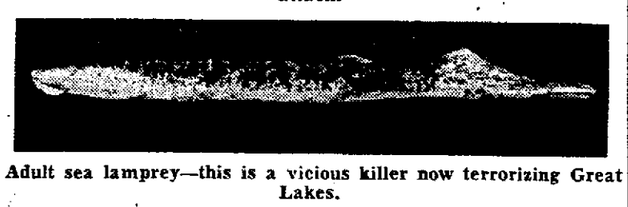
Facts appear to back up the congressman's gloomy forecast. Since commercial fishing began this season, the death mark of the lamprey has been found on herring, chubs, perch, whitefish, wall-eyed pike, suckers, pickerel and white bass.

Not only has the lamprey attacked these species, but the chub catch for the first full two months is one half normal. Fisherman fear the lamprey has already decimated this popular food fish.

Nine-ounce baby trout—note wound on side inflicted by sea lamprey.



Blueblack herring—gaping wound is mute testimony of lamprey attack.



Adult sea lamprey—this is a vicious killer now terrorizing Great Lakes.

The sea lamprey, a slimy eel-like creature native to salt water, feeds by clinging to the body of the fish with its vacuum-cup mouth and sucking out blood and body fluids.

Sometimes fish are killed by a single attack—or again an individual fish may survive several attacks. However, the vitality of the fish is lessened and if it survives the lamprey it may fall prey to microscopic parasites that invade through the broken skin.

The lamprey presumably entered the Great Lakes through the Welland canal, which routes shipping around Niagara Falls. The pest adapted itself to fresh water. It was first noticed in Lake Huron and Lake Michigan during the early 1930s, but attracted little attention.

Early in the 1940's commercial fishermen noted a shrinking of their catches in Lake Huron waters and the lamprey was suspected of being a major villian, since one-third of all fish taken showed the lamprey mark.

A similar but less marked drop also occurred in upper lake Michigan. By last autumn, it became apparent that the sea lamprey had pushed his domain throughout the entire lake.

The Michigan Department of Conservation reported lake trout production had dropped to 12,400 pounds for the lowest February catch in four years. The department said in its official publications that trout was "believed to be the principal victim of the parasitic sea lamprey."

Western Michigah commercial fishermen were willing to concede the truth of this statement earlier. Trout fishing was at a standstill, because the trout catch had dwindled to a point where it was useless to risk $24,000 worth of trout nets for catches as small as 300 pounds.

Michigan's Department of Conservation is co-operating with the United States Fish and Wildlife service.

* * *

"The matter of greatest concern to us is that no one as yet has any practical suggestion to provide adequate control. So far we are only groping for a solution to the problem," the department has announced.

"At the same time much has been learned about the creature's behavior, that only confirms our earlier feeling as to the magnitude of the task.

"We do not think it is a question of providing adequate funds, but rather what can be done that will actually be helpfull."

Full details of the life cycle of the sea lamprey has not yet been established. So far researchers have learned that the adult lampreys migrate into streams to spawn in the spring. The migration ends about mid-June.

Researchers know that lampreys like 50 degree water and mixed gravel and sand beds. They know that the females may lay as many as 78,000 eggs and probably more. In New York, single lampreys have been known to lay as many as 236,000 eggs.

* * *

Scientists know the life cycle of the lamprey is about five to eight years. During adult life a lamprey kills scores of fish.

Recently, another eel-like creature has been brought to Michigan. It is believed to prey on the lamprey larvae. A Michigan editor seriously advised finding a practical use for the lamprey as the best means of control. Samples have been sent to Scandanavia to see if the lake lamprey is acceptable as food. It isn't.

Anybody who has a practical suggestion can get an audience in the Great Lakes area. There is too much food at stake not to take the problem in all seriousness.

Lake trout used to be so plentiful that it was on the blue plate specials, but now a trout dinner ranks in cost with the sizzling T-bone. There is still trout on the menus, but fish dealers say all trout now come from Lake Superior—and that's where the lamprey is headed.

Dog Tales

Pets Readily Acquire Habit Of Obedience

By TOM FARLEY

Most dogs are apt pupils and willingly learn to obey their masters' commands. Some dog-owners, however, approach the problem of training their pets with misunderstanding and frequently, with a good deal of impatience.

Training a dog to obey commands is not complicated and takes but little time if the trainer first acquaints himself with the proper ways to accomplish what is desired.

Among the elementary commands that every dog should be taught to obey is that of coming when called. Before starting to teach this, or any other command it is important that the home trainer understand certain things.

During training periods, the dog should be kept on leash and commands should be given in a firm friendly voice without shouting. The collar used should be a slip chain collar, and the leash a long one, preferably six feet. Use the word "no" in corrections. The dog must learn that "no" always means that he is doing wrong.

The command to come should always be preceded by the dog's name, as "Rover, come" to avoid confusion later. Place the dog in a sit position and then move back the full length of the leash. Give the command. If the dog does not respond, give the leash a quick jerk.

Never pull steadily on a slip chain collar. When the dog comes his correst position is directly in front of the trainer, sitting and facing him.

When the dog has thoroughly learned to come from the short distance and take the correct position, the distance may be increased by walking backward and gathering up the leash to keep it from snarling. The final step will be, of course, to take off the leash and work from a longer distance.

Even then, it is best to work the dog on leash at the beginning of the training period, later taking it off. This method will insure greater control over the dog and he will respond more quickly to the command once the leash is removed.

Constant repetition and practice is the only sure way to make this training a success. It is best not to work the dog for too long a period at one time. Don't forget to praise him lavishly when he does well. It is the only reward he needs. The trainer's reward will be a well mannered, more obedient dog.

Appointment Of Protector Due Aug. 1

67 Pass Civil Service Test

Richland county will have a new game protector by August 1, H. A. "Buck" Rider, state conservation commissioner, declared Friday.

Rider in answer to questions by Tom Blizzard, secretary of the Richland county Fish and Game association, said that 67 men passed the Civil Service examination for the post of game protector and that cards are being mailed to these men to ascertain if they are in a position to accept appointments at present.

"It is my understanding with Civil Service that they will have the completed list in my hands no later than the last week in July," Rider wrote," Therefore, I would say at this time the man will be appointed by August 1 in Richland county."

Rider added that six men from Richland county successfully completed the examination for the post.

The county has been without a warden since the retirement of C. I. Kimmel more than a year ago.

The Fish and Game association has engaged in a 'running battle' with the state for several months to speed the appointment of a protector. At one point in he scrap, Gus Miller disrupted proceedings at the League of Ohio Sportsmen convention in Columbus in an effort to expedite the appointment.

New Met Manager Keeps 'Open Mind'

By ALVIN STEINKOPF

LONDON —(AP)— Rudolf Bing says he will go to New York with open mind and humble spirit to take charge of the Metropolitan Opera company.

He will become general manager in about a year, but he has no pet schemes or any hard-and-fast programs to impose. Bing is not a cocksure artist who is sure "there is something wrong with the met."

"Possibly there's nothing basically wrong; it may just be a task of bringing many loose ends together," said Bing, 47-year-old Vienna-born manager of musical enterprises.

Making loose ends harmonize has been one of his outstanding talents as artistic director of the Edinburgh international festival. He is an organizer who synchronizes a thousand details.

Tall, wiry Bing, who lives in London but is constantly hopping to Scotland by plane, said that normally he isn't scared of anything on earth, but the thought of taking over the Met does have him a little frightened.

"It's the biggest job of its kind in the world," he said, "and I'm duly impressed by the responsibilities and the opportunities. But what am I going to do with the Met? I, who scarcely know it, would certainly be presumptuous if I turned up with some ambitious formula now.

"I wish I were ten years younger. I almost wish I had more than for this new job.

"But I know how I'll go about it. First, learn about the Metropolitan before making it over, or tearing it apart. First understand this complicated instrument and then, if I measure up to it, maybe I and my very competent colleagues will be able to work together to create something beautiful."

STAR AT BOTTOM

He will get right down to the tough details, Bing said. He will get into the box office to see who's buying tickets. He will study the subscription arrangements. He will go through the wardrobe, garment by garment, and will heft the tools in the work shop.

He will try the electric switches and will sit all over the house to see whether there are drafts. And, perhaps most important of all, he will try to get widely acquainted with musical America. That is another characteristic which has made him highly successful in Europe. His acquaintance with artists is personal and extensive.

"All these things, little and big, go together to make an opera company," he said. "Every part must contribute in its way to a harmonious whole."

He will not go to New York, Bing added, with any notion that he has anything superior to show America. It is a land, he said, of extremely competent artists.

"So I know I shall have the very best of material with which to work. And my whole hearted appreciation extends to American singers. They are really first rate."

Shopper Reports Theft of Billfold

Miss Margaret Strohm, of Defiance, reported to police that a tan billfold containing $13 or $14 was stolen Saturday afternoon while shopping in a downtown department store.

She said the billfold was taken out of her purse, which she had laid on the counter several times while shopping.

The largest known eggs were those of the extinct Aepyornis, of Madagascar. The contents one such egg would equal 15 dozen modern hen's eggs.

Washington's Account Book On Display

A reproduction of the account book of George Washington, covering the period from June 1776 to 1783, will be exhibited in the lobby of the Richland Trust company for two weeks beginning Monday. This document is one of a series of reproduced Freedom Train exhibits which are being brought to Mansfield as part of the public service program of the Richland Trust company.

When Washington was chosen by the Continental Congress as commander - in - chief of the American armies, he said he would take no payment for his services, but would keep an exact account of his expenses so Congress could someday reimburse him.

Washington's account book was compiled from various expense books and memoranda kept by aides, stewards, housekeepers, and others, and is necessarily, therefore, a summary. It contains, however, many items of special interest. Among these is a series of entries of payments for espionage service.

The double columns on most pages are explained by the necessity of reducing the amounts to a common basis. Because each colony had its own currency, the rate of exchange between local and "lawful" or coined currency varied throughout the war.

Boys Hard At Work To Achieve Goal

Troop 4 Scouts Strive For Own Cabin

A log cabin of their own, set in a little clearing with an open fireplace and the walls lined with typical "boy" trinkets . . .

That's the dream of Boy Scout Troop 4 and their "big brothers," the Frank R. Stahl Rover Crew. Together, they're hoping that other Mansfielders might like to share that dream.

Neither the troop nor the crew is asking for anything without work. Every piece of equipment for the troop has been bought with the money the boys have earned in concerted drives. This time, however, it's a bigger project.

That "big project" is the troop-crew sponsored lawn fete scheduled for Liberty park Friday night. Dinner will be served at 5 p. m. for those planning to come early and there will be games and fun for everyone during the evening. Mansfield merchants have donated everything from rods and reels to grease and lubricating jobs which will be given away in prizes.

There are others who are mighty anxious for the lawn fete to be a success. Those are the members of the five Girl Scout troops in that area who have been promised use of the proposed scout cabin as a meeting place. According to Roy Phelps, leader of the Rover Crew, the girls have done an expert job of selling their mothers on the idea because the mothers are taking complete charge of the dinner preparations for the fete.

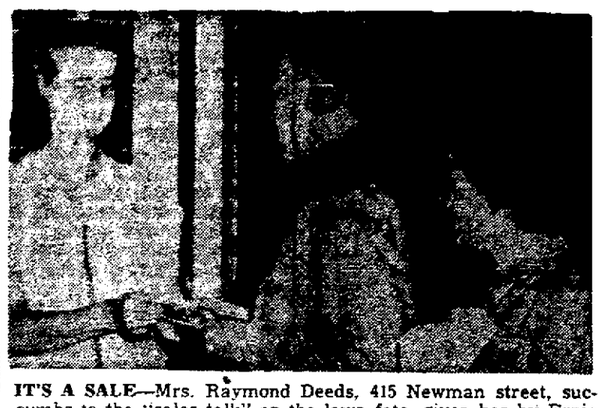
All proceeds from the lawn fete will go into the "cabin fund."

For the past three weeks, the boys and girls have served as an "advance patrol" to every doorstep in their neighborhoods, carrying news of the lawn fete.

More than 200 home - made cakes have already been promisid for the event, plus potato salad, baked beans, meat loafs and other typical lawn fete delicacies that will heap the tables.

Fifty posters, announcing the lawn fete, and made by the crew members, have gone into store windows all over town.

"Just like the posters say—we're asking the public to help build the cabin for the boys and build better citizens at the same time by supporting the scout activities," Phelps commented.



IT'S A SALE—Mrs. Raymond Deeds, 415 Newman street, succumbs to the "sales talk" on the lawn fete, given her by Ernie Kern and Patty Kueiling, and buys some tickets. Kern, a member of Boy Scout Troop 4, resides at 385 Newman street. Patty is a member of Girl Scout Troop 46, lives at 387 Third avenue.

Ohio Namesake Due In Capital

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Ohio may yet have a namesake in the nation's capital.

The District of Columbia commissioners have suggested that M street and Canal road in old Georgetown, near the Potomac river, be renamed "Ohio avenue."

A public hearing on the proposal will be held July 25.

Several Ohio members of Congress have said their state should be recognized along with others for which Washington avenues have been named.

South American Step Wins Popularity

New Dance Introduced On Ocean Liner

It starts with a handclap and ends with a kiss. That's the newest thing in South American dances called the "Good Neighbor Cueca" and introduced on board the luxury liner Argentina.

Devised by Tony and Billie Cansino, members of the famed Cansino dancing family, (Tony is Rita Hayworth's uncle) the dance is a ballroom version of an old Argentina native dance. While typically Latin in its feeling, the dance as developed by Tony and Billie has a step that should make it popular with the audience, and another that will make it very popular with the dancers themselves.

Opening with an eight - bar introduction, the dancers and the audience clap their hands and stomp their heels in time to the music, somewhat reminiscent of the hand-clapping so popular in the song "Deep in the Heart of Texas."

Most exciting of all is the finale of the Cueca. The dance has built up all during its course, a chase of the male after the female, and it culminates in the last step with a kiss, called the "Besito".

The Cansinos saw the original native dance in Buenos Aires, southern most terminal of the 38 - day cruise, and while it is a riotous and frenzied affair as such, they saw the possibilities of arranging it as a ballroom dance that could be learned and executed easily with no accessories other than a man's handkerchief.

The dance came originally from Chile, and has as its original theme the courtship of the hen by the rooster. Years ago it traveled, still as a native dance, to Argentina, where with slight variations it remained. The music for the dance, also called "Cueca", is in 6-8 tempo.

Martin Firm Asks RFC Loan

BALTIMORE — (AP) — The Glenn L. Martin company, operating under a revamped management, has asked the Reconstruction Finance corporation for another loan, an RFC spokesman said.

The specific amount has not yet been entered with RFC. It will depend upon the amount of new business the big airplane company can get under the new management.

The management switch came Friday when President Glenn L. Martin stepped down from the presidency and into the newly created position of chairman of the board of directors.

FBI Identifies Amnesia Victim

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. — (AP) — A young woman admitted to Erlanger hospital here June 22 as an amnesia victim was identified Saturday by the Federal Bureau of Investigation as Christine Powers, 19, of Keystone, W. Va.

The FBI said she was also known as Ruth Casteel and Ruth Romans, and had been held by police in Dayton, O., as an amnesia victim in July, 1948. Identity of the hospital patient was established through a check of fingerprint records in the Washington office of the FBI.

'Runaway' Car Hits, Damages Mailboxes

Civic Music Association Sets Dates for Two Concerts

12th Season Will Open On Oct. 4

Series Will Draw Top U. S. Talent

By MARQUERITE MILLER

Mansfielders may mark down Oct. 4 on their calendars as the opening of the Civic Music association's 12th consecutive season.

On that date, the Bakaleinikoff Sinfonietta, under the direction of Vladimir Bakaleinikoff, will appear at John Simpson auditorium.

E. D. Gibson, president of the association announced yesterday that final dates for three of the four concerts scheduled have been definitely set. The Don Cossacks will appear on Nov. 17. The other concert date is Feb. 7 at which time Mansfielders will welcome back the piano team of Pierre Luboshutz and Genie Nemenoff.

Concert date for Jerome Hines, Metropolitan bass is still pending. The six - foot - six Hines, reported as handsome as his voice is powerful, scored his first season with the Met last year in roles formerly held for Enzio Pinza. The spine - tingling Don Cossacks, who have appeared here on association concerts twice before, are being brought back by unanimous demand of the membership this year.

Music lovers in the city feel that the association is fortunate in obtaining the Sinfonietta for the concert season. The Sinfonietta was recently founded by Bakaleinikoff, firmly established as one of the nation's foremost symphony conductors and at present musical adviser for the Pittsburgh Symphony orchestra.

All of the 20 members of the Sinfonietta are principal players of the symphony orchestra whose performances have been acclaimed by critics and public alike.

This season the Sinfonietta will make its tour in October, just prior to the opening of the Pittsburgh Symphony season, and will travel some 3,000 miles in presenting concerts in the eastern states, going as far south as Florida.

CONDUCTOR PROMINENT

As for the conductor of the ensemble, Bakaleinikoff was born in Moscow and was graduated with high honors from the Moscow Conservatory. In 1920 he became conductor of the Opera branch of the world - famed Moscow Art theater. He became assistant conductor of the Cincinnati Symphony orchestra in 1927 and in 1938 he was appointed associate conductor of the Pittsburgh Symphony.

Known throughout the nation as an outstanding teacher and conductor of concerts for children, Bakeleinikoff has conducted 222 concerts for high school pupils and young children in the past seven years. From 1929 to 1939 he was a teacher at the National Music camp at Interlochen, Mich. He is the teacher and has guided the phenomenal career of the young condutor, Lorin Maazel, and it was his advice and encouragement that started the sensational soprano, Patricia Munsel, on her way to the Met.

Hines, who unquestionably could be labeled the "pin - up boy" of the Met, brought more honors to himself this summer by becoming the Metropolitan representative to the Goethe Festival in Colorado.

At 18 years, while still in college, Hines made his professional debut. He was immediately recognized as a find by the San Francisco opera where he appeared the following season. Since then he has been soloist at the Hollywood Bowl and has performed leading roles at the Los Angeles Philharmonic, New Orleans and the Central City opera companies. Last year the 26 - year - old bass won the Met's $1,000 Caruso award.

"A great organ of human voices," is what the Don Cossacks have been called. Few Mansfielders who have heard the chorus will disagree. When the strapping Cossacks appear here with their tiny leader, energetic Serge Jaroff, the group will be on its 20th tour of the U. S. In the last several years they have become naturalized citizens of the U. S. and their music is as familiar to the folks in Walla-Walla as to their fans in Carnegie Hall. They are said to have been responsible for the addition of the "kazatski" to the Yankee lexicon and the transformation of the "Volga Boatmen" into an "American" folksong.

For Mansfielders who remember the Cossacks several years back, there'll be a change. The flowing beards no longer adorn the Slav chins.

The husband and wife duo-pianists, Luboshutz and Nemenoff who appeared here four years ago have often been called "among the finest artists of our day."

In the eleven years of their career as duo-pianists, they have achieved a record unparalleled by any other duo - pianists. They have made repeated performances with all the leading symphony orchestras, among them the NBC Symphony under Toscanini, the Boston Symphony under Koussevitzky; the Philadelphia orchestra under Eugene Ormandy (nine engagements within one season); the New York Philharmonic Symphony orchestra plus many other major orchestras from coast to coast, throughout Canada and Cuba.

Pierre Luboshutz and Genie Nemenoff . . . duo pianists.

Bakaleinikoff Sinfonietta . . . scheduled for Civil Music opener, Oct. 4.

Jerome Hines . . . handsome Metropolitan opera bass.

Broadway

Camp Shows Prove Boon To Troupers

NEW YORK — (AP) — A big man with a smiling face, his name Will Oakland was walking down Broadway the other night and he stopped on a corner in the bright lights. Nothing had changed, he said.

It still is much the same as it was a quarter century ago when Will Oakland's "Terrace Club" was one of the hot spots in the bright light section of Broadway, a gathering place for the great and near-great in the midnight salons.

"It looks hardly any different from the time Texas Guinan and Helen Morgan were queens along this avenue, except that they have more lights now and some of these animated electric signs are better than the floor shows in the cellars," he said.

Oakland, a laughing, hefty Irishman who has been both producer and master-of-ceremonies of noted Broadway shows for many years, said that on his recent tours with USO camp shows he has observed a greater suppiy of new performers coming into the amusement field.

"The war, of course, cut down the supply of promising young performers," he said, "but there are an increasing amount of them recently. Many of these youngsters have made progress on the professional stage with training and experience they got in the USO and Army Special Service shows during the war, and they are getting more training performing with the Veterans hospital camp shows which are going across country now.

"On this hospital circuit we are playing into more than 120 Veterans hospitals in 43 states now. Our units are all small ones, but they play on a tour of 30 weeks which cover a route of 28,000 miles."

Since the return of vaudeville to the Palace in New York and other variety stages across the country, coupled with hospital camp shows and television programs, the lot of the small time actors has been a more promising one. The shows not only employ stars who can play for a few weeks now and then, but more and more are utilizing the services of performers who do not have their names in lights.

Reporters Get Public Apology

CHARDON — (AP) — Citizens and newspaper reporters ordered out of a meeting of the Chardon village school board last June have been given a public apology by one of the board members.

"It never should have been done and I am very sorry and apologize for voting to go from a regular session to an executive session," said Mrs. Mary Price. Several civic leaders and the reporters had been ordered to leave the meeting after Board President Robert Cullop announced the board would go into secret session.

Happenings In Hollywood

Subtle Touches Add To Film Perfection

By HOWARD C. HEYN

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Director Fritz Lang is still the perfectionist.

He spent an hour and a half photographing a cockroach crawling across a piece of paper, just to get a subtle touch he wanted for one scene in his current picture. And he put the property department on its mettle by demanding, all of a sudden, an egg cozy for another scene.

An egg cozy is a little knitted cap that keeps a soft-boiled-egg warm. Seems cozies were common in the 1890's, the era of Lang's film. The property man finally dug up an old knitted woolen sock, unraveled it, gave the yarn to a wardrobe girl, and in half in hour Lang had his egg cozy.

Lang knows full well that "perfection" is a word which makes Hollywood shudder. It smacks of artiness. In Hollywood's book, art is poison at the boxoffice. But the Vienna-born Lang, famed in Europe before the war for films like "M," Liliom" and "The Last Will of Dr. Mabuse," is convinced there is a happy medium. "Without detail," he insists, "you are lost."

Without belittling writers, he maintains that little acts or gestures frequently are worth pages of dialog, "because the visual appeal is more impressive."

In "House by the River" at Republic, Lang's first picture in nearly two years, Louis Hayward doesn't have to say a word to give the impression that he is going out on the town. He merely sticks his finger in his mouth to moisten it, slips off his wedding ring and drops the ring casually into his shirt pocket.

Lang's addiction to realism sometimes amuses, sometimes puzzles his players, but they usually like the ultimate effect. A housemaid in "House by the River" is strangled just as she walks downstairs, clad only in a robe, after her bath. Lang rolled up his pantslegs and went through the scene himself, to illustrate the posturing step, the precise degree of nakedness he wanted.

The maid's body is stuffed into a woodsack and lugged around. Does Lang used a dummy? He does not. Dororthy Patrick spent an entire day uncomfortably doubled up in the sack. She wasn't too happy about it.

But Lang believes there is a certain limpness about a body which can't be duplicated with a dummy. Dorothy, when she saw the rushes, agreed.

Calliope Frightens Borrowed Horses

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Percheron horses eat a lot of oats, and Santa Anita racetrack was glad to rent eight of the big beasts to Producer George Pal for his first live action film, "Rupert."

The fee was reasonable, but Pal wonders if he got a bargain. The erstwhile cartoon moviemaker had the eight big horses hitched to a steam calliope for a scene with Jimmy Durante, Terry Moore, Tom Drake and a squirrel.

The first blast from the calliope terrified the percherons. They thundered through the sound stage, smashing hundreds of dollars worth of sets, lights and other equipment. The hostlers might as well have tried to hold a locomotive.

★

Actress Says Her Face Is Terrible

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Lois Wheeler, star of "Dear Ruth" on the stage, got her first movie role in "My Foolish Heart." When she saw the rushes she decided her acting was adequate, but—

"My face!" she moaned. "I looked terrible! I'd never got to see myself on the screen!"

★

Cameras Won't Pick Up 'Honest Sweat'

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Gilding the lily department:

Hot weather necessitates air-conditioned sound stages, but "East of Java" set at Universal - International because circulating air would carry away the haze of tobacco smoke which provided atmosphere for Shelley Winters' torchy song.

The actors streamed prespiration, almost believing they actually were in Java. Then a property man came around and with a mixture of oil, glycerine and witch hazel. The cast looked puzzled.

Chief cameraman Maury Gertsman explained that real perspiration doesn't look authentic on film.

Actor Tries Hand At Various Tasks

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Besides skipping back and fourth between Hollywood and Europe for film roles, Louis Hayward has decided to try his hand at producing and directing.

Hayward, born in Johannesburg, South Africa, has traveled a lot in his life. He likes it. A few weeks ago he finished a part in "Pirates of Capri," filmed in Italy. Now he is working in "House by the River," at Republic.

Next month he goes to Europe again, for "The Man from Jamaica." This one will be filmed in Madrid, Majorca and Spanish Morocco, with French and Swiss capital and with a British production crew. Hayward will play opposite British Actress Patricia Roc, whose husband, Andre Thomas, will be the cinematographer. The picture will start about Aug. 15, in Madrid.

Thereafter, Hayward will return to Hollywood to co-produce with Harry Joe Brown a Columbia picture as yet untitled. Then Hayward goes back to Europe again for a film in association with Novelist Edgar Ulmer. Hayward will co-produce and co-direct that one, the script for which is incomplete.

She Got Husband Instead of a Job

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Screen Writer Jack Reynolds, who has an acting role for a change with Barbara Stanwyck in Paramount's "The Lie," has finally admitted an error of judgment —but only after the lapse of years:

The versatile Reynolds once was casting director for Samuel Goldwyn. A beautiful brunette walked in one day, and announced that she could dance and sing as well as act. She wanted a job. Reynolds turned her down.

He did, however, ask her for a date. Then another, and a third. He fell in love with her — but he still refused her a job.

Eventually they were married. But the story didn't end there. This lass talked herself into a leading role with Bing Crosby, in "Holiday Inn," and thereafter became one of the colony's busiest stars. Her name was Marjorie Reynolds.

Reynolds, perhaps wisely, gave up casting for screen writing.

Hubby's Popularity Doesn't Worry Dale

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Having 1,385,648 other women in love with your husband isn't so bad when you get used to the idea, says Dale Evans.

Her husband, Cowboy Actor Roy Rogers, has received that many proposals in his fan mail since January, 1947, Roy's mail clerks report. One was from a 9-year-old in England who hopes he'll wait until she grows up.

"But," Dale observes, "not all of them are from children by any means, and it's a good thing I'm not the jealous type. When a man gets 7000 letters a day, no wife alive could pluck out all the verbena-scented envelopes."

Dale, now working in Republic's "Susanna Pass," appeared in films with Roy from 1943 until a year ago, when she married him. She has learned to take such things in stride, she declared, adding:

"What's a little thing like a million or so other women, when for years I've been playing second fiddle to a horse?"

Movie Studio Has Ants In Its Plants

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Ants in its plants cost Twentieth Century-Fox studio several thousand dollars in ruined takes on the "Pinky" set. Trees and shrubs were moved into a sound stage for the reproduction of Mississippi bayou country, and when this vegetation died after a week or so, the ants emerged in armies in search of food. Actors, suddenly bitten, forgot their lines. Tastiest morsel, according to the ants, was Jeanne Crain.

Intrigued Director Buys Location Site

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — While making a picture in the Sierra Nevade foothills, Director Gordon Dougles became so intrigued with the location site that he bought it.

Seventy - five per cent of Columbia's "Lawless" was shot near Lone Pine, Calif., Ranch scenes were filmed on the 660-acre Carl Moon ranch. Douglas told Randolph Scott that he wouldn't mind owning the place. Scott kiddingly suggested that he buy it.

After returning to Hollywood Douglas did just that.

Make-Up Tricks Add Twinkle to Stars

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — How much of a movie star is real? That has been a question for some time, what with toupees, dental caps, shoulder pads and elevator shoes. More than one Hollywood hunka man wears all of 'em.

Now the makeup department at MGM has discovered that contact lenses can be used to change the color of a player's eyes. This is handy for otherwise rugged types who have baby-blue eyes for instance. And actresses, of course, can change the color of their eyes to match their dresses.

Coal Wastes Used As Building Material

LANSFORD, Pa. — (AP) — The ailing anthracite industry, once Pennsylvania's finest, may be due for a new lease on life.

The shot in the arm is comparatively simple — making use of slate, anthracite's "poor cousin." The result is a new, lightweight entry into the concrete construction field.

It comes from raw material mined deep below the surface and put through the same precise preparation pattern as hard coal. The slate and similar refuse has been piling up on towering, unsightly dump banks familiar in this region for 100 years.

Heretofore, attempts at creating practicable by products from anthracite have met with scant success in an industry suffering competively from oil and natural gas incursions.

Slate that is inevitably dug along with the coal may be the solution. Blasted under white-hot temperatures, a combination of slate and small-sized anthracite is transformed into a lightweight porous compound. When broken up it looks like brownish chunks of cinders—but rock-hard.

The product has been dubbed Lelite by its originator, the Lehigh Navigation Coal company. The firm, founded in 1791, is one of the oldest in the nation.

Lelite is designed to provide the bulk for mixing concrete known in the building trades as aggregate.

"Lelite concrete weighs only one-third as much as concrete made with ordinary aggregates, and without any decrease of strength," says Lehigh's president, Robert V. White.

Official recognition of the product has come from Richard Maize, Pennsylvania secretary of mines. Maize, an engineer, said:

"Due to its lightness it will reduce the overall cost of building and reduce the necessity for many girders and beams to support heavy walls and floors."

Maize said the hard coal region's biggest problem is to woo the building industry into turning away from the traditional crushed stone, gravel and slag as aggregate material and use the shale byproduct instead.

The first hurdle in this direction has been overcome by the recent approval of the New York City Board of standards that the new type aggregate can be used for office building and other construction in the world's greatest metropolis.

The Lehigh firm is now calling in some of the nation's topflight architects and construction engineers to see Lelite in action. A new $1,500,000 production plant has been built entirely of concrete using the shale aggregate.

Lelite ties in with the economy of the anthractie region this way:

Current production of hard coal is only a little more than half of the peak tonnage of World War I. It is now between 50,000,000 and 60,000,000 tons.

Next to water trouble - for every 10 tons of marketable coal mined, 200 tons of water must be pumped to the surface — comes the refuse problem. Two tons of slate, rock and other debris are also hoisted for every 10 tons of hard coal. Coal preparation plants must expensively crush, wash and size the waste together with the coal.

But with the production of Lelite the last phase of separating the coal from the refuse is beginning to see the latter go into a byproduct instead of ending up ingloriously on a refuse bank. That extra revenue from the byproduct may be what's needed to stop the slow decline in mining operations with its subsequent unemployment.

The ultimate fate of the anthractie industry may now be in the hands of the construction industry, Maize says. It depends on whether Lelite clicks.

Consult Building Supply Dealer To Cut Expenses

Substantial savings in money, time and work result if the home owner will discuss his remodeling plans with his building material supply dealer before starting any new construction, from the building of a few simple shelves to a new addition to the house.

The building supply dealer's cost estimate can be used as a guide when figuring with a contractor.

If the owner plans to do the work himself, the dealer's advice on materials often saves many dollars. When ordering lumber it is important to know the exact measurements and the proper kind, grade and size of lumber that will cut with least waste. Clear select grades may not be required except for exposed shelving or trim.

Soft wood comes in even lengths of 8 to 20 feet, and in 1-, 2-, and 3-inch thicknesses.

The first dimension in lumber is the thickness, second is width, and third the length. Thus a 2" x 4" x 12" is a piece of lumber 2 feet long and contains 8 board feet. Most lumber is sold by the board foot which is the equivalent of 1" thick, 1' wide and 1' long. Molding is sold by the linear foot and plywood by the square foot. To simplify matters for home - owners many dealers are pricing lumber items by the linear foot.

Blame Reds In Strike

LONDON — (AP) — Despite appeals from Canadian union leaders, a Canadian seamen's dispute paralyzed London's waterfront for the 20th day Friday.

London longshoremen have boycotted two Canadian ships involved in a jurisdictional fight between Canadian unions. The dockers' boycott spread to other vessels and imperilled Britain's import of vital goods and export of the material she needs to sell.

Prime Minister Attlee received a telegram Friday from 16 Canadian trade union leaders declaring transportation unions in Canda are not supporting the strike. The attitude of the London dockers, the telegram said, appears to be based on "misinformation and communist propaganda."

In the meantime British troops continued to load and unload ships. They were called in after King George VI declared a state of national emergency.

Five Dead In Plane Crash

BERLIN — (AP) — A British Hastings airlift plane crashed and burned while taking off from Tegel airfield in Berlin Sat. killing five crewmen, airport officials reported.

Airfield attendants said the RAF craft stalled at an altitude of 50 feet and plunged to earth. The plane was said to be loaded with freight for western Germany.

It was the second fatal airlift crash in four days.

The crash raised the death toll for the 13 months of the air lift to 59.

Metal Lath Proves Best

Applying plaster to walls and ceilings over metal lath or perforated rock lath instead of wood lath creates a surface that has greater fire resistance and less danger of cracking.

One of the advantages of plastered interiors is that any unevenness in wall or ceiling construction can be concealed as the plaster is applied. Another is that if the stud and joist spaces are filled with mineral wool insulation, fire will be held back for an hour or more.

Plaster can be redecorated repeatedly, and unless permitted to get wet, it will usually last the life of the house. Plaster cracks are usually caused by settling of the house, shrinkage of wood used in construction, improper mixing of plaster.

Plaster is made of sand, water, and lime, or gypsum, mixed to a plastic state and applied in 3 successive coats. The extremely thin finish coat may have a smooth or a sand texture. The smooth coat can be papered or tinted with any kind of paint; sand finish does not work well with paper or enamel paint.

Gypsum plaster is ready-mixed, only water being added at the job; plain plaster requires addition of sand as well as water.

Mrs. J. Nisley Dies at 44

Housewives Rate Steps No. 1 Gripe

COLUMBUS — The No. 1 dislike around the home, from the housewife's point of view, is stair climbing, numerous surveys by schools reveal.

The authority for this statement is Dr. Elaine Knowles Weaver of the Home Equipment Research Department of OSU's School of Home Economics here, who has authored many articles in widely read magazines and whose views have been quoted often by women's features editors in many newspapers.

Dr. Weaver believes one of the reasons that one-floor plan homes have become increasingly popular throughout the nation is because they save the housewife work and steps.

As the latest proof of how walking up and down stairs needlessly wears out the women in the home, she cited results of a survey by one of her students, Mrs. Julia Swenningsen Judson, for her master's thesis. Mrs Judson used questionnaires and personal interviews with handicapped women and learned that their most frequent gripes were those of physically fit housewives. Likewise, the remedies were the same for both groups. Her thesis was more than 200 typewritten pages long.

Advocates of ranch-type homes often have pointed out that doing away with the second floor and basement takes much of the drudgery out of working around the house, through eliminating many steps.

Tragedy Strikes At Celebration Party

CINCINNATI — (AP) — The body of pretty Frances Rader was recovered from a water - filled gravel pit Saturday, the day she was to pick out her engagement ring.

She drowned shortly before midnight Friday after celebrating her 17th brithday at a family dinner and attending a movie with her fiance, Calvin Scheidt, 21. Saturday's plans included selection of a diamond, he said.

2 Loudonville Girls Plan Nurse Training

LOUDONVILLE — Barbara Horn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs Herman Horn of Loudonville will enter Mt Sinai school of Nursing in Cleveland in September.

Both girls have been employed by the Flxible company since their graduation, from Loudonville high school.

Fire Losses Drop a Bit

Although America's fire loss in the first 5 months of 1949 was 10.4 per cent below the first 5 months of 1948, it is estimated that one home out of every 100 will be damaged by fires this year. For that reason, plus the fact that it is estimated that about half the homes are underinsured today, it is imperative that home - owners carry insurance to cover them fully in case of damage, according to the Construction Research Bureau, New York clearing house for building information.

This year's lowered fire loss is believed to be the result of better construction which has prevented large-loss fires. Such construction includes greater use of fire resistant materials and the closing of all hollow spaces in walls and ceilings with such incombustible materials as minerwool insulation, the Bureau said.

The need to carry adequate insurance is stressed, replacement costs of dwellings and contents having more than doubled since 1940. What was adequate coverage nine years ago may mean large loss to the property owner today.

When bringing insurance policies up to date, all items of the property should be protected, including trees and fences. A rider on the fire policy at small added cost will cover losses caused by hail, windstorm, rioting, smoke from nearby conflagrations, vehicle damage and falling aircraft.

Death Claims Aged Woman

NEW LONDON — Miss Jenny Snyder, 85, died here Saturday morning following a lengthy illness.

Miss Snyder, a former Mansfield resident, had made her home with her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Snyder, for the past 15 years.

Besides Mrs. Snyder, survivors include one nephew Jack Snyder of Columbus.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Monday from the Sackett-Eastman funeral home with Rev. Crawford of the New London Methodist church officiating.

Burial will be made in Mansfield cemetery.

Route Assigned

LOUDONVILLE — The highway postal coach, recently produced at the Flxible plant here, will be placed into service this week in Pennsylvania. It is the 65th such highway postal vehicle accepted by the government. And will operate between Altoona and Williamsport, Pa.

VACATION CABIN—Many vacationers this summer are picking out sites for permanent summer homes at the beach, in the mountains, or on lake shores. The cabin shown in illustration has two bunk rooms to sleep four or more. A big living room with a fireplace and picture window and an efficient dining-kitchen combination are included. This is Plan 79-H by Richard B. Pollman, 11711 East Eight Mile road, East Detroit, Mich. The house covers 648 square feet and has 7,660 cubic feet. These figures can be used for local estimates on costs.

Prohibition Hits India's Tax Revenue

Bootlegging On Increase

NEW DELHI, India — (AP) — Prohibition is creeping over India, along with bootlegging, home brew and speakeasies. Any decline in drinking has been limited to good liquor.

One trouble is that there is a potential binge in every palm tree, and India has a lot of palm trees. Furthermore, Indians know how to do intoxicating things with rice.

The situation is not orderly. Bootleggers and police stage dramatic battles. Illegal factories turn out ill-advised beverages. Some toddy tappers, who used to tap palm trees for country liquor, have joined the unemployed. The rest continue to tap when no one is looking.

Provinces committed to prohibition have seen liquor tax revenues dry up faster than their citizens. To top that, more money has had to be spent for special prohibition guards and expanded police departments. The result has been new taxes on everyday necessities.

Complete prohibition is still some years away, but as long as the Congress party remains in power the movement will spread. To spur it on, the party has the preachings of Mahatma Gandhi, who believed the lot of the impoverished millions would improve if no money were spent on drink. The Brahmins, teachers of the Hindu religion, are not supposed to touch anything alchoholic.

Nearly every province had placed restrictions on drinking when the central government began last fall to urge a "go-slow" policy. The government feared the provinces would turn to it for financial assistance to make up for the loss of liquor revenue.

But prohibition had become a political issue in some provinces, and in Madras, there was a feeling that liquor tax money was tainted money. That province, and several others, went ahead.

Madras, the only province so far completely dry, figures it will lose 164 million rupees annually in liquor taxes. A rupee is worth 30 cents).

Bombay province, scheduled to be totally dry by next April, will have to give up liquor revenues which once came to 120 million rupees yearly. In the United provinces, where prohibition is now limited to 11 of 26 districts, complete prohibition will mean the loss of 62 million rupees. Bihar province, which is raising country liquor prices and reducing the number of licensed shops, will have to do without 40 million rupees revenue when totally dry. The loss in the central provinces, now half dry, will come to five million rupees.

Other provinces are taking things easy. West Bengal, in which Calcutta is located, is abolishing drinking houses for the poor, cutting tavern hours, boosting liquor taxes and enforcing a weekly "dry day."

India's states have adopted no uniform policy. Prohibition as a principle has been proclaimed in several unions of states. Mysore state is enforcing some restrictions. Hyderabad, still under military control, has established a prohibition belt adjoining dry districts of neighboring provinces.

Liquor cannot be served to government functions here or abroad but prohibition does not apply to the armed services, where a marked lack of enthusiasm has been noted.

How well is prohibition working? Police reports show those who want liquor are still getting it in large quantities.

Testifies On Visa Laxity

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Central Intelligence agency told Congress Saturday at least 32 foreign officials obtained visas to enter the United States although they had records of subversive activities abroad.

This was revealed shortly after H. J. L'Heureux, State department visa chief, said that his superiors overruled him "five to 10 times" a month to grant visas to aliens he considered "security risks."

The 32 unidentified foreigners were described as persons who were permitted to enter the United States as official representatives of their governments to international groups, including the United Nations.

CHRISTIAN—LARSON

Miss Johnnie Christian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Willis, 306 East First street, became the bride of Mr. Verdell Edward Larson, son of Mrs. Mary Larson of Paducah, Ky., Saturday July 9. The couple were married at 6:30 p. m. by Rev. A. J. Payne who officiated before an altar banked with palms and gladioli.

The bride wore a dress of white moire taffeta with a scalloped cape collar and a full skirt of the new off-the-floor length. Her gloves were white nylon and she carried a bouquet of white roses tied with white satin ribbon. The maid of honor Miss Esther Christian, sister of the bride was attired in a long orchid organdy dress trimmed with narrow white lace on the short sleeves and at the high rounded neckline. She wore ribbon to match her dress in her hair and carried a bouquet of white carnations tied with ribbon of same color.

The bridesmaids were Miss Erline Fowler, Miss Janice Madison, Mrs. Andrew Davidson and Mrs. Nathaniel Caldwell. Two of them wore pink organdy dresses and two wore blue organdy dresses, all styled the same as that worn by the maid of honor. The birdesmaids wore ribbon to match their dresses in their hair and carried arm bouquets of white carnations tied with ribbon of the same color. Delores Marie and Mary Jeanette Hairston were flower girls in white organdy dresses. Robert Larson, brother of the groom was the best man and Seamon Larson, brother of the grrom was an nusher. The newlyweds will reside at 22 South Willis avenue.

Out - of - town guests here for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Nutting, Mrs. Brodie Peoples and Percy Walker, all of Detroit, and Mrs. Mary Larson of Paducah, Ky.

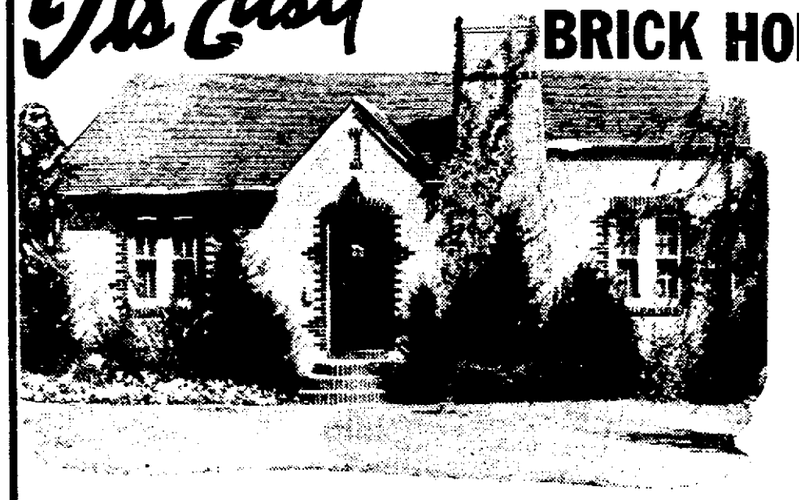
It's Easy TO OWN AN ALL-BRICK HOME



You will find hundreds of ideas and suggestions in the practical plan book. Send for your FREE copy today.
In fact it's just as easy to get the many additional advantages of brick construction as it is to buy a home of less permanent materials. Because brick has been almost universally used for the better types of homes—the impression has unfortunately arisen that it was much more expensive. Nothing could be further from the truth.
The brick home you buy today costs so little more that financial institutions are willing to let you buy it with the SAME down payment And, the savings will multiply year after year with your easier-to-keep-up home of brick.
